ADV. UDAIVEER SINGH BINDRA, MANAGING DIRECTOR GLOBAL EMPIRE EVENTS & BIZNATION TV

Aaj aap sab ki uphastati me and in your welcome I would like to say

मीरा की अमर भक्ति ज़हर से मर नहीं सकती,
झाँसी वाली रानी है किसी से डर नहीं सकती,
मदर टेरेसा, कल्पना हो या सानिया,
असम्भव क्या है दुनियां में जो नारी कर नहीं सकती।

Today on this auspicious occasion as we have gathered under the Ek nari 100 pe bhari and Leaders of Bharat 9th Chapter.

I would like to mention Why do we celebrate the Woman Leaders and glorify our Indian women entrepreneurs and Educators more is because - बिजली चमकती हैं तो आकाश बदल देती हैं आंधी उठती हैं तो दिन रात बदल देती हैं जब गरजती हैं नारी शक्ति तो इतिहास बदल देती हैं !!

I'll tell you why and how ?

Today President of India is a Woman, The Finance Minister of India is a Woman, many Chief Justices of Honorable Supreme Court are woman, many corporate heads of big mncs are woman, woman cricket team is excelling. So we are not only just having leaders in the most populated country of the world, but we are also way ahead in having "woman as leaders".

Talking about leadership according to the shreemad Bhagavad Gita,

It is not possible to become an effective leader if the leader does not understand his or her own self, and does not understand his or her own potential and purpose but today in India we have a leader Our Prime Minister Sh. NARENDRA Modi ji who does not only understands himself very clearly but the heart of the Nation and people as well and is leading on the forefronts, Economically, socially and geopolitically and we can proudly say today that India is the world leader not only on the Asian Map, but up there on the World map & India is the New Emerging Superpower.

And now Talking about BizNation TV the digital backbone of Global Empire Events, the core team of marketing, digital marketing and the pillar.

In today's Era of Entrepreneurship and marketing I believe that we don't have a choice on whether we do social media, whether we advertise our business on social media or not, but the question is how well we do it ?

So How well we do it at BizNation TV?

In mba the first chapter we read is jo dikhta ha vo bikta ha.

BizNation TV is a live example for everyone of you attending this conference today, you all connected with us because of our visibility on social media because of our digital marketing which was done by BizNation TV.

BizNation TV will be a one stop solution for all your digital marketing needs. All the designing you see here on the stage on photobooth on the standees all the conceptualizing of the conference and the event and the marketing has been handled by BizNation TV.

We believe in brand building and would like to be at your service through our digital marketing strategies & Services. Let's grow your brand together with BizNation TV. To know about our services we have kept our brochures in your Conference kits.

I'll conclude by saying...

रुकावटें आती हैं सफलता की राहों में ये कौन नहीं जानता,
फिर भी वह मंज़िल पा ही लेता है जो हार नहीं मानता।

H.E. MR. K.L. GANJU,

O.C.V.C. (CDR.) DOCTOR (HONORIS CAUSA) CONSUL GENERAL (HY).
ADVISOR TO FOREIGN MINISTER, UNION OF COMOROS. PRESIDENT
HONY. CONSULAR CORPS DIPLOMATIQUE-INDIA.

Mr. K.L. Ganju a businessman by profession became the Consul General (Hy.) of the Union of Comoros in the year 2005. The gazette notification for his appointment was issued by Govt. of India on 10th January, 2005. Mr. Ganju at the initial stage of his life had to abandon his education to standby his father at the time of crises in the family. But he was determined to make a mark in his life. At the age of 19 years he started a small business which grew steadily. He continued his struggle and achieved his desired goals. He married Dr. Gurdeep Kaur and started living happily. He has two daughters. After giving good education to them, he got them married. Right from the beginning of his life he was devoted towards helping the under-privileged, he continued to give education to the poor children and helping getting married the daughters of the poor families. Apart from this, he was instrumental in collecting funds for the Indian Spinal Injury Center which is today one of the best Spinal Injuries Hospital in India. For this effort, he collaborated with Maj. H.P.S. Ahluwalia (the Everest Hero). But the zeal to do something special continued. In the year 2004 he was offered to become the Consul General (Hy.) of the Union of Comoros in India. Initially he declined this offer, but ultimately due to some good friends he agreed to take the responsibility. After assuming the charge of the Consul General (Hy.) he realized that this is the best way to help the needy people wherever they are and also promote good bilateral relations between India and Union of Comoros. He established Embassy like Hony. Consulate in New Delhi and started working. He realized that there is no traffic of people from Union of Comoros to India either for education, medical treatment or business. He used his skill to convince the people and Govt. of the Union of Comoros to send their patients for medical treatment to India which has good medical facilities available at a reasonable price. He also convinced the students of Union of Comoros to come to India for education. Though Union of Comoros is a francophone country still students came to India, learnt English and thereafter completed their graduation, post-graduation and also some of them did doctorate. The biggest satisfaction which came to Mr. Ganju was when serious patients started coming to India for treatment. During the course of their treatment it gave Mr. Ganju opportunity to serve them, help them at the time of need. This also includes, sometimes, giving family blood to the patients at the time of operation. This action of Mr. Ganju became talk of the town in the diplomatic community in Delhi and people in Comoros. This service of Mr. Ganju continued and is still on. Having achieved to serve the people of Comoros, Mr. Ganju also played an important role in promoting bilateral relations between India and Union of Comoros. Today the bilateral relations between the two countries are its best.

Mr. Ganju is proud of his achievements and in the process he published a book titled "The Golden Decade 2005-15, My life as Hony. Consul General". During the printing of the book, the comments Mr. Ganju received from dignitaries including Hon'ble President of the Union of Comoros are remarkable and satisfying. Some of the comments are mentioned below:

Hon'ble President of the Union of Comoros wrote I quote "So I am glad to say that during this decade, thanks to the tireless efforts of Mr. Ganju, there has been much improvement in Indo-Comorian relations, whether in terms of high level visits, economic interaction or people to people contact." Unquote

Hon'ble Foreign Minister of the Union of Comoros wrote I quote "Talking about his experience as Honorary Consul General of the Union of the Comoros is an important contribution that I greet with respect. It is a testimony and teaching. Diplomat by heart, Mr. Ganju will always surprise us and amaze us. His journey is a life lesson. His life, he devoted to others. My country is proud to count on a man with great human qualities, a man of great talent who knows how to open himself to others." Unquote Hon'ble Mr. Idriss Raoua Quedraogo, Ambassador of Burkina Faso in India wrote I quote "His achievement as Hony. Consul General is like a pilgrimage, where he has invested a lot of dedication, selfless service, humility and fraternity to deepen the concept of Diplomacy. As a young envoy of Africa, I feel very proud and honored to have crossed paths with Mr. K.L. Ganju." Unquote.

There are many other messages which were received from different Ambassadors, High Commissioners, Dr. G.V.G. Krishnamurthy, Former Election Commissioner of India and other dignitaries.

For this extraordinary humanitarian work through diplomacy and also developing excellent bilateral relations between India and Comoros, Mr. Ganju was awarded two highest civilian decorations by the Hon'ble President of Union of Comoros.

1. "Order of the Green Crescent of Comoros" – Officer Grade

2. "Order of the Green Crescent of Comoros" and was raised to the level of "COMMANDER". This is the highest civilian decoration of the Union of Comoros.

MRS. GEETA DWIVEDI

Success Comes When You Do What You Love and Love What You Do

Hi, my name is Geeta, and I am honored to share my journey as a Public Health expert turned Holistic Health Coach and Growth Coach for Health and Wellness Practice Coaches. My passion for health and wellness has always driven my work, and over the years, I have dedicated myself to helping individuals achieve optimal health and guiding health coaches to reach their goals and lead healthier, more fulfilling lives.

Educational and Professional Background

My journey began with a strong academic foundation. I hold an advanced degree in Public Health and an MBA, which equipped me with the skills to navigate the complexities of the healthcare landscape and strategically manage health initiatives. In addition, I have earned internationally acclaimed certifications in Weight Loss, Nutrition, Holistic Health, Gut Health, Autoimmune Disorders, and NLP (Neuro-Linguistic Programming), as both a Practitioner and Master Practitioner. These qualifications allow me to provide comprehensive, evidence-based coaching to my clients.

Beyond formal education, I have undergone extensive national and international training in personal development, which has shaped me into the person I am today. These experiences have deepened my ability to understand my clients' needs and guide them effectively toward their desired results.

Professionally, I have over 22 years of diverse experience in the health industry. I had the privilege of working for 15 years with the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation on numerous health projects in India, particularly focusing on female health, maternal, and child health care (MNCH). After that, I worked with the National Health Mission for five years as a Quality and Clinical Auditor/Trainer. These roles allowed me to contribute to large-scale health initiatives while ensuring high standards of care and empowering healthcare professionals.

Achievements

Throughout my career, I've been driven by a desire to make a meaningful impact. My work with the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation and the National Health Mission has been instrumental in improving health outcomes for women and children across India. However, it was during this time that I realized the importance of a more personalized approach to health.

One of my key areas of expertise is in helping women aged 35 and above navigate the challenges of pre-menopause, menopause, and post-menopause. These phases of life can bring significant physical and emotional challenges, and I specialize in providing holistic support to help women manage symptoms, maintain vitality, and embrace this new chapter with confidence.

In addition to focusing on women's health, my holistic approach also supports individuals of all genders and ages. Whether it's weight management, stress reduction, or chronic disease prevention, my approach addresses the mind, body, and spirit as interconnected aspects of well-being.

The Birth of Fitness Coach Blueprint

With my years of experience in public health and holistic health coaching, I identified a growing need for more skilled health coaches. This led to the birth of Fitness Coach Blueprint, my organization dedicated to mentoring health and wellness coaches to build thriving, sustainable practices.

As a Growth Coach, I provide aspiring health coaches with the tools, strategies, and mindset they need to succeed in this competitive industry. My programs are deeply rooted in my own journey—building a successful health coaching practice requires more than passion and knowledge; it demands strategic thinking, effective marketing, and the ability to build strong client relationships. I've had the privilege of helping many health coaches achieve six-figure incomes within their first few months, empowering them to make a positive impact in their communities.

Scope of Work

Today, my work encompasses two key areas: health coaching and business coaching for health professionals. As a health coach, I specialize in helping women over 35 navigate the physical and emotional complexities of pre-menopause, menopause, and post-menopause. My holistic approach ensures that each client receives personalized care, addressing their unique health challenges and empowering them to achieve optimal well-being.

As a Growth Coach, I mentor health and wellness coaches, helping them build and scale their practices. My programs cover essential aspects of business, from client acquisition and retention to marketing and business management. I also engage in public health advocacy and education through speaking engagements, workshops, and my online platforms, sharing my knowledge and experiences with a broader audience.

Conclusion

Receiving the Woman Changemaker of the Year award is a significant milestone in my journey, but it's far from the end. This recognition is a reminder of the lives I've been able to impact and the difference my work has made in the health and wellness community. However, I see this as just the beginning. I am motivated to continue expanding my reach, supporting more individuals on their health journeys, and empowering more coaches to build successful businesses that make a real difference.

In a world where health and well-being are more important than ever, I strive to be a beacon of hope and inspiration. My work is a reflection of my passion, perseverance, and purpose, and I am committed to creating a legacy of empowerment, transformation, and success. As I look ahead, I am excited about the opportunities to continue making a positive impact and helping more people achieve their health and wellness goals.

WE ENTER TO LEARN, LEAVE TO ACHIEVE

MS. SHAIFALI BHADORA

I've always considered myself a jovial and approachable person, someone who thrives on collaboration rather than competition. For me, collaboration has always been more rewarding because I believe that working together, supporting each other, and learning from those around us creates longer-lasting success. Whether it's in my personal life or professional career, I tend to be a big planner, paying attention to the smallest details, and that's a trait that has helped me tremendously in everything I've done so far.

Growing up, I always knew that I wanted to help people in some way, to make a difference in the world. That dream shaped much of my journey, even from a young age. I did my schooling in Dehradun and Delhi, spending many of those years in boarding schools where I learned to be independent and adaptable. After that, I pursued my bachelor's degree in Commerce (B.Com Professional) from Christ University, Bangalore, which gave me my first real exposure to the world of business. I worked for a year and a half with a variety of startups, which was an eye-opener in terms of understanding how businesses grow, the challenges they face, and the solutions they bring to the market. That experience gave me a solid foundation, and I knew I wanted to pursue more.

After gaining that initial exposure, I decided to further my education. I pursued a master's degree in Business Strategy and Entrepreneurship from Cardiff University, UK. During my time there, I had the privilege of working on projects where I provided consultancy services to various startups. This wasn't just about business; it was about understanding different cultures, perspectives, and markets. It gave me a global perspective, which has shaped how I approach business today. My professor often said, "Entrepreneurship is not just about creating new ideas or products, but about implementing them in impactful and radical ways." That advice stayed with me, reminding me that innovation is not just about newness, but about meaningful change.

While I was in the UK, I worked with startups from all over the world, navigating their unique challenges and helping them find solutions. The exposure I gained was invaluable, but my heart always knew where I wanted to be. I knew that I wanted to return to India and make a tangible impact, both in business and in society. It was then that I decided to join my family's business, Frut X, as the Head of Exports.

When I joined Frut X, it was still a startup, and there was no established exports department. In fact, there wasn't anyone focused on developing the international market at all. This challenge excited me. I knew that I didn't want to just join the business; I wanted to take on a role that no one had taken up before. Developing a completely new market, especially on an international scale, is no small feat, and I knew it would be tough. But the journey over the past year and a half has been immensely rewarding. I'm proud to share that we've already begun exporting to several countries, and our goal is to continue expanding our reach. We want Frut X to be known not just within India but internationally, a brand that transcends borders.

One of the things I feel most passionate about is women's participation in industries like manufacturing, which are traditionally male-dominated. Manufacturing is often led by men, particularly older men, but at Frut X, we're breaking those stereotypes. We're a young team, and I'm proud to be a woman leading in this space. I believe that the more we push these boundaries, the more we can inspire other women to take on roles they might not have considered before.

On a more personal note, music has always been a significant part of my life. It's a passion of mine, something that keeps me grounded amidst the challenges of work. Singing and listening to music allows me to recharge and connect with a different side of myself, and I believe it's important to maintain those passions, no matter how busy life gets.

Looking back at my journey, from my school days to my experiences abroad, to the challenges of building something new within my family's business, I realize how much every step has shaped me. I've had the privilege of learning from incredible mentors and working with amazing people, and I know that I am where I am today because of that. My goal moving forward is not just to grow Frut X, but to continue making an impact whether it's by helping the company expand internationally or by empowering more women to step into roles like mine.

I am excited for what lies ahead, and I believe that with determination, collaboration, and an eye for meaningful change, we can continue to break barriers and make a lasting impact, both within India and beyond.

MS. MUSKAAN

My name is Muskaan, and I am the CEO of 28degree Unisex Salon, which I co-founded with my best friend Arshad Salmani eight years ago. Our salon is more than a business—it's a symbol of inclusivity and empowerment, serving people of all genders. The name "28degree" reflects harmony and balance, values we bring to every aspect of our work. My entrepreneurial journey began with a passion for beauty and wellness and a desire to create a welcoming space for everyone.

As a woman entrepreneur, I have faced many challenges. Securing funding was difficult, and I often found myself navigating stereotypes in a male-dominated industry. Despite the odds, I bootstrapped the business, driven by my belief in the vision of 28degree. Juggling personal and professional responsibilities added another layer of complexity, but my resilience and determination fueled my success.

28degree isn't just a salon—it's a place where we challenge traditional beauty standards and provide a safe space for all, including the LGBTQ+ community. We're also committed to sustainability, using eco-friendly products to minimize our environmental footprint.

Empowering women has been a cornerstone of my journey. I've made it a priority to hire and train women, giving them the skills and confidence to excel in the beauty industry. The ripple effect of women supporting one another is powerful, and seeing my team thrive is deeply fulfilling.

My key lessons? Believe in yourself, embrace failure, support other women, and stay true to your values. Through this journey, I've learned that Ek Nari 100 Pe Bhari is more than a phrase—it's a testament to the strength and potential within every woman.

"Success is not a destination but a journey crafted by the relentless pursuit of excellence and the courage to innovate."

My journey in the world of intellectual property has been defined by an unyielding passion for knowledge and a deep-seated belief in the power of innovation. From the early days of my career as a Patent Analyst to my current role as Senior Analyst - Biotechnology at Evalueserve, I've always sought to push the boundaries of what is possible. My fascination with the intricate world of patents, especially within biotechnology, has driven me to constantly evolve, learn, and apply my expertise to create real-world impact.

Founding Intellectual Innovation Academy (IINA) in April 2024 was a pivotal moment in my career. IINA emerged from a clear recognition of a critical gap—the delay in innovation patents often caused by a lack of awareness of the research required for patents as a vital skill. At IINA, we are not merely reacting to this challenge; we are proactively addressing it. Our mission is to empower individuals by spreading awareness, fostering a deep understanding of intellectual property, and equipping them with industry-based training that prepares them to lead in R&D departments. It symbolizes the trust placed in me and in IINA's vision to reshape how we approach intellectual property and innovation. This award strengthens my resolve to extend our reach beyond borders; to inspire and guide minds worldwide, and to leave a legacy that transcends industries.

What sets IINA apart is our unwavering belief that innovation is not confined to the laboratories or boardrooms; it begins with nurturing the curiosity and potential within every individual. At IINA, we see every challenge as an opportunity to innovate, to rethink conventional approaches, and to redefine the standards of excellence. We are not just teaching skills; we are igniting a passion for lifelong learning and innovation. Our vision is to create a global community of thought leaders who are equipped not only to navigate the complexities of intellectual property but to revolutionize the industries they touch.

Standing here today, I realize that this award is not the conclusion of my journey but the dawn of a new era. The road ahead is filled with unprecedented opportunities, and I am more driven than ever to seize them. The question "What's next?" is not merely a rhetorical inquiry; it is the mantra that will continue to propel me forward. From the intricate world of data science to the nuanced realm of psychology, my career path has been anything but conventional. My name is Komal Gupta, and my journey is a testament to the power of passion and self-discovery.

FROM NUMBERS TO NARRATIVES

In my previous role as a data scientist, I was immersed in the world of algorithms and analytics. While I excelled in this field, I soon realised that my true passion lay elsewhere. I have always been fascinated by observing human behavior and solving practical life issues—much like reading a novel where each individual's story unfolds with depth and complexity. MRS. SANDEEP KAUR

FASHION DESIGNER JOURNEY OF SANDEEP KAUR

Hello everyone,

My name is Sandeep Kaur and I am a Fashion Designer and Entrepreneur as well. Today I would like to share my journey as a designer but before starting, I would like to give a heartwarming thanks to Ek Nari-100 par bhari platform for recognizing me to give the title of women change maker of the year 2024.

I faced lots of challenges to be a fashion designer because I belong to a small city where there is no scope in courses like designing. In the small cities as well as rural areas, people do not have proper knowledge about creative fields so they don't allow their children to be designers because they think there is no future in this field. When I realized that garment designing is God gifted to me then I decided to be a fashion designer and luckily my family is very supportive to me which helps me to complete my fashion designing course in a metropolitan city like Lucknow.

After completing my studies, I decided to start my own business in fashion field instead of doing a job in a metropolitan city. There are some reasons behind this which I would like to share with you all.

Firstly, work and family both are my priorities at same time which is not possible when we do full time job.

Secondly, well paid jobs are available only in metropolitan cities and it is very challenging specially for a woman to live far from home for job.

Third but most important reason to start my own business is that I want to bring scope in fashion designing field in town areas like my hometown on big scale and want to provide more employment to the youth and giving them better carrier options in town and rural areas instead of metropolitan cities.

I want to dedicate all my career to the youth in small towns and rural areas who want to build their own career in creative fields but there is no proper guidance available to them. I just want to be a guide or mentor for them for their bright future.

In 2021, when my son was 4 months old, I started my career with work from home. I used social media platform for online business and today I am a successful fashion designer in my area. The most important thing I would like to mention here is about my husband who is the main reason behind my success. He stands always with me in every situation. He always supports me and invest money to set up my career in this field. So, it is not wrong to give all the credit of my success to my life partner.

Now let's talk about inspiration behind my success who is my father. My family background is not highly educated hence there was always lack of guidance for me to achieve my goals but my father always dreamed to see me as highly educated and self-dependent. So, I do always hard work to fulfill their dream and as a result now I am his proud daughter.

I would like to say youth that success doesn't happen quickly. Any businessman or entrepreneur didn't become successful overnight. They do lots of hard work and dedication towards their work, their ideas and the most important thing is not to give up in any situation is the key of success. It is like to plant a tree who takes more time to grow up and takes care as well.

The magazine Ek Nari is a wonderful platform for sharing success story of any business entrepreneur, who encourages specially women to grow up in their respective fields. I am very grateful to this magazine which provide me an opportunity to share my experiences in the journey to become a successful fashion entrepreneur.

Additionally, I would like to give huge thanks to Biz Nation TV as well as Global Empire Events for organizing awards ceremony for woman entrepreneurs and educators to enhance their career in a wonderful way.

Thank you,
SANDEEP KAUR.

FROM ENGINEER TO ACADEMIC: A FOUR-YEAR JOURNEY IN RESEARCH

I am Prof. Shreya Doshi. Masters in Computer Engineer. The transition from the dynamic world of software development to the contemplative realm of academia is a unique path. For a computer engineer with four years of experience as an academic, this journey has been a blend of intellectual stimulation, pedagogical challenges, and the thrill of research. The initial shift was marked by a significant change in priorities. The fast-paced, deadline-driven environment of industry gave way to a more structured, long-term perspective. As an academic, the focus shifted from delivering immediate, tangible products to cultivating young minds and contributing to the broader knowledge base. Teaching has been both rewarding and demanding. Engaging students from diverse backgrounds and inspiring a passion for technology has been a fulfilling experience. Designing effective curricula, developing innovative teaching methodologies, and staying updated with the rapidly evolving field of computer science have been constant challenges. The role extends beyond imparting knowledge; it involves mentoring students, guiding their research projects, and fostering a culture of critical thinking and innovation. Concurrently, the pursuit of research has been a cornerstone of this academic journey. Building upon the foundation of engineering expertise, the transition to research involved developing a strong research question, designing rigorous methodologies, and conducting experiments. The process of exploring uncharted territories, analyzing data, and drawing meaningful conclusions has been intellectually stimulating. Balancing teaching responsibilities with research demands has required effective time management and prioritization. Collaborating with peers in academia and industry has been essential for research growth.

Sharing ideas, co-authoring papers, and participating in conferences have broadened perspectives and enriched the research experience. The academic ecosystem offers a unique opportunity to engage in interdisciplinary research, fostering collaborations across different fields and leading to innovative solutions.

The journey has not been without its challenges. The academic world comes with its own set of pressures, including grant writing, publishing, and securing tenure. Adapting to the bureaucratic nature of academia and navigating the complexities of academic politics can be time-consuming. However, the rewards of intellectual freedom, the opportunity to shape young minds, and the potential to contribute to the advancement of knowledge far outweigh these challenges.

Looking ahead, the goal is to continue contributing to the field of computer science through high-quality research and effective teaching. Building a strong research portfolio, mentoring graduate students, and establishing a reputation as a thought leader in the chosen research area are key priorities. Balancing research, teaching, and administrative responsibilities will remain a challenge, but effective time management and a clear vision will be crucial.

The transition from engineer to academic has been a transformative experience. It has allowed for the application of technical expertise in a new context, while fostering a passion for teaching and research. The journey continues to be an exciting blend of challenges and opportunities, with the ultimate goal of making a meaningful impact on both education and the field of computer science.

Through my efforts, I aim to showcase that women can lead and excel in technology. I also advocate for awareness around women's empowerment, the POSH Policy, and gender diversity, ensuring that the conversation continues.

On a personal level, one of my proudest achievements is owning my dream house. This milestone symbolizes years of hard work, skill development, and overcoming obstacles. MS. SHILPA TIWARI

BRIEF DESCRIPTION ON PERSONAL AND EDUCATIONAL LIFE:-

Shilpa Tiwari, an Indian social worker, is the visionary founder of "Astha Sewa Samiti" in Lucknow. This non-government organization has been registered since 23rd April 2010 under the Society Registration Act 21, 1860. Our mission is to champion the rights and welfare of impoverished women across Indian states. I am honored to serve as the Secretary and Chief Executive Officer, dedicated to driving positive change and empowerment.

Born on March 17, 1977, in Bombay, Maharashtra, I received my primary education there. I later earned a degree in Science and Law from Kanpur University, followed by a B.Ed from Bhopal University and an M.C.A. from IGNOU. In 2002, I was admitted to the bar as a lawyer at the Allahabad High Court. Life can be incredibly challenging, but it's through these hardships that we find our strength. When I was just 7 months old, my mother left, and my father remarried. Despite the difficulties, I have two wonderful younger sisters and a brilliant brother. Twenty-four years ago, my husband abandoned me and our two-year-old son at a railway station with no money and no plan. Thankfully, my aunt came to our rescue and helped us get by. I began working as a contractual employee in the U.P. Government from 10 to 5, but I knew that traditional employment wasn't my calling. This realization led me to establish my own organization, dedicated to empowering and supporting separated or divorced women and girls. Driven by my own experiences, I am committed to making a meaningful impact on the lives of others. Today, my son has excelled in the JEE mains exam 2024 and is on the brink of embarking on his journey as an engineer.

Achievements:-

Astha Sewa Samiti, a non-governmental organization (NGO) based in Lucknow, Uttar Pradesh, is dedicated to transforming the lives of women artisans. Since its establishment in 2010, the organization has been passionately committed to promoting women's empowerment, human rights, and community development. Registered under the Societies Registration Act 1860 (Registration No. 142/2010-11), our mission is to empower women through education, skill development, advocacy, and community mobilization, fostering a culture of respect for human rights and social justice. Over the years, we have received various government projects, including Flagship projects from the Ministry of Skill Development & Entrepreneurship Deen Dayal Gramin Kaushal Yojana (DDU-GKY) and Special Projects of Pradhan Mantri Kaushal Vikas Yojana. Our dedication to empowering women artisans has been recognized through projects awarded by the Ministry of Textiles-HandyCraft Programs. Our multi-phased approach includes skill training, capacity building, exposure visits, and support for establishing production units. Entrepreneurship training is a pivotal component of our project, empowering these artisans to enhance their craft and establish sustainable businesses. Through our various Minority awareness projects, we strive to make a significant impact on the lives of these artisans, leading to their empowerment and contributing to the overall development of the community. Under the leadership of Ms. Shilpa Tiwari, the Founder and Chief Functionary, Astha Sewa Samiti adheres to high standards of transparency, accountability, and governance practices. Our vision is to build a society where every woman enjoys equal rights, opportunities, and dignity. Join us in our mission to create a brighter, more empowered future for women artisans and their communities. ASTHA SEWA SAMITI is a passionate NGO dedicated to revolutionizing the lives of women artisans in District Lucknow. Our mission is to tackle the intricate socio-economic challenges faced by these artisans, with a keen focus on empowering women, uplifting artisans, and fostering sustainable livelihoods. We firmly believe that empowered and educated women and girls have the potential to become primary breadwinners, influential leaders, and catalysts for positive change. By providing opportunities, exposure, a robust support system, and motivational capacity-building training, women and girls can advocate for their rights and make a lasting impact on their communities. This empowerment enables them to elevate their social status and inspire future generations.

Our primary goal is to offer comprehensive skill training in intricate handicraft embroideries, particularly Chikenkari and Hand Embroidery, to enrich the lives of these artisans and preserve traditional artistry. Alongside skill enhancement, we prioritize the health and well-being of the artisans by organizing health camps and healthcare services to ensure their overall wellness. We are tirelessly working to create a profound impact on the lives of these artisans, leading to their empowerment and improved livelihoods. Through our unwavering efforts, we aim to contribute to the holistic development of the community by bridging the gap between skill development, economic upliftment, and comprehensive well-being. With Self Funding and Government funds also, we have tried to serve for the humanity and culture aspects.

REWARDS AND AWARDS:-

My achievements were showcased on Doordarshan by the Apparel Sector Skill Council for the episode "Aap Ki Baat." Additionally, I was honored with the "Women's Entrepreneurship Award" by the Delhi Management Association in 2019 for my exceptional work in chicken embroidery.

MS. GUNJAN PARE

Astro Gunj: Navigating & Empowering Paths through Psychic Astrology and Healing

In the ever-evolving world of spirituality and energy work, Astro Gunj stands out as a beacon of guidance and transformation. Known off-stage as Gunjan Pare, she has carved a niche for herself as a highly intuitive and empathetic healer. With a blend of astrological insights, psychic abilities, and a passion for soul healing she helps people rediscover themselves, break free from past traumas, and align with their true soul purpose.

THE JOURNEY TO BECOMING ASTRO GUNJ

Before venturing into astrology and psychic work, Gunjan had a successful six-year stint as a corporate employee in the media industry. As a trained Journalist, she was already attuned & well-versed in understanding the complexities of human emotions and stories. But it was her spiritual awakening that led her to realize her true calling: to help and heal the world. Her path from the corporate boardrooms to astrology and healing wasn't a conventional one, but it just felt natural from the moment she stepped into it.

"People often misunderstand Tarot as a tool for predicting the future,"

Astro Gunj says. "But it's so much more. It's a guide that helps people channel their energies in the right direction."

Astro Gunj's journey is rooted in a deep desire to bridge the gap between spiritual wisdom and modern living. Her extensive knowledge and diverse toolkit in Western Astrology includes Tarot Card Reading, Akashic Records, and Numerology. She's also experienced in Crystal Healing, Reiki Healing & Water Therapy. She also practices lesser-known modalities such as Pendulum Dowsing, Dice Reading, Candle Wax Reading, Healing & Spells giving her a wide range of approaches to cater to her clients' unique needs.

The Power of Tarot and Beyond Astro Gunj places great importance on Tarot, seeing it not as a predictor of the future but as a tool for clarity. "The real power of Tarot lies in helping people make sense of their current circumstances," she says. "The cards provide Guidance, not Destiny."

Her Tarot readings have provided clarity to countless clients, whether they're at a professional crossroads or facing personal dilemmas. What makes her sessions unique is how she incorporates her psychic insights, offering a truly personalized experience.

This gift of psychic insight, combined with her knowledge of astrology, allows her to guide people based on the influence of their planets. "People are often out of sync with the natural rhythms of the universe," she says. "Aligning with these energies allows you to live a more fulfilling life."

HEALING THROUGH AKASHIC RECORDS

One of Astro Gunj's most powerful tools is her ability to access the Akashic Records. These "soul books" store every action, emotion, and thought from an individual's past lives. By reading these records, Astro Gunj uncovers the deep-rooted causes of her clients' present situations, whether it's unresolved trauma from past lifetimes or the effects of good karma. This practice allows her clients to heal their past and move forward with a clear heart.

"This practice is almost like hypnotherapy," she explains. "Just like how psychologists use hypnotherapy to help people access suppressed memories, I help people dive into their soul's journey, allowing them to heal and evolve."

With this approach, Astro Gunj allows her clients to come to terms with their past while learning to integrate the lessons into their current lives for a better future. Energy Healing: Crystals, Reiki, Spells and More

"The healing process takes time, and there's no quick fix," she often reminds her clients that "Take time to make your soul happy & remember that You are not alone in this." What sets Gunj apart is her approachable and empathetic nature. She believes that everyone is on their own unique spiritual journey and that healing requires patience and compassion. "If you're reading this, it's for a reason," she says, extending a heartfelt invitation to those who feel lost, stuck, or overwhelmed. "I'm just Here to Hear."

In a world where many are seeking quick fixes, Astro Gunj emphasizes the importance of intentional, gradual healing. Her mantra, "Har ghar Healer" (which translates to "a healer in every home"), reflects her belief that everyone has the capacity to heal themselves, but sometimes, they just need the right guidance.

FINAL THOUGHTS

Astro Gunj is more than just an astrologer or a spiritual healer. She's a friend, helping people understand the challenges they face in their lives. Whether through her toolkit or her range of healing techniques, she creates a safe space for her clients to explore their emotions, acknowledge their thoughts, understand their past, and move towards a brighter future.

Her deep passion for helping people live aligned with their true selves is evident in everything she does. For Astro Gunj, this isn't just a profession - it's her life's purpose. As she continues to grow her practice, her mission remains clear: to Help the World Heal, One Soul at a Time."

INTRODUCTION

Radha Love2Teach is a leading provider of high-quality online education, committed to delivering exceptional tutoring services across the globe.

OUR HUMBLE BEGINNINGS

Born from the challenges of the pandemic, this organization has swiftly grown from a modest beginning in Gurugram to a worldwide educational powerhouse, connecting students and educators across continents. Driven by a passion for teaching and a commitment to quality, we have expanded significantly. Today, Radha Love2Teach educates over 150+ students worldwide, supported by a dedicated team of more than 30+ expert teachers. The founder, a former school teacher with eight years of experience, saw opportunity where others saw obstacles. The pandemic brought unprecedented challenges, including lockdowns and a swift shift to online education. Recognizing the potential of this new landscape, I adapted my teaching methods to a virtual format. The quality of my online classes led to referrals from parents, which facilitated further growth and the eventual expansion of Radha Love2Teach.

The Foundation of Our Organization Radha Love2Teach is built on the principle of bringing together passionate and knowledgeable educators committed to making a positive impact. We believe that education goes beyond covering a syllabus; it's about ensuring concept clarity and fostering a genuine love for learning. This philosophy drives us to offer a comprehensive educational experience that surpasses traditional teaching methods. A World Without Borders Radha Love2Teach's student body is as diverse as it is global. Learners log in from bustling metropolises and quiet towns across the world. The virtual classrooms unite students from Asian, European, Arabian, American, Australian and numerous other locations, creating a truly international learning environment. This global reach is not just a testament to the organization's growth but also to its commitment to providing high-quality education that transcends geographical boundaries. It's particularly focused on supporting Indian children whose families relocate internationally, ensuring educational continuity and excellence regardless of their new home. Curriculum for the Global Citizen Understanding that modern education must be flexible and comprehensive, Radha Love2Teach offers courses that span diverse syllabi including CBSE, ICSE, IB, and IGCSE. However, the organization goes beyond simply teaching to these standards. We offer a range of co-curricular activities designed to support overall growth. From regional language classes that keep students connected to their cultural roots, to writing improvement workshops that improve communication skills; by providing these opportunities, we aim to enhance students' skills and interests beyond the traditional curriculum. These enrichment programs are not mere add-ons but integral components of the Radha Love2Teach experience, aimed at equipping students with the diverse skill set. The focus here is on deep understanding rather than rote learning. Concept clarity takes precedence over rushing through a syllabus.

At the heart of Radha Love2Teach's success is its team of passionate, knowledgeable educators. These aren't just teachers; they're mentors, guides, and innovators. Each instructor brings not only high qualifications and subject expertise but also the ability to connect with students on a personal level. The teachers at Radha Love2Teach go above and beyond, independently creating resources tailored to their students' needs to support individual learning needs, ensuring that students grasp theoretical concepts and apply them effectively. Supporting Relocated Students A significant part of our mission is to support Indian children who relocate internationally due to their parents' work commitments. These students often face challenges in adapting to new educational systems. Radha Love2Teach aims to bridge this gap by providing consistent educational support, ensuring these students receive the guidance needed to excel academically, regardless of their location. The Importance of Qualified Educators Our success depends on finding and nurturing dedicated teachers who excel in their subjects and engage effectively with students, impart both academic knowledge and essential life skills, such as effective communication and interpersonal relationships, helping students develop into well-rounded individuals. Merging Innovation with Tradition As we continue to grow, we blend the innovative spirit of a startup with the established practices of a budding enterprise. Our focus remains on delivering exceptional educational services while addressing the unique needs of our students and their families. We are particularly dedicated to alleviating the concerns of Indian parents abroad, offering peace of mind by ensuring their children's educational needs are met with the highest quality.

A Vision for the Future

As Radha Love2Teach looks to the future, its goals are ambitious yet clear. The organization aims to continue expanding its reach, bringing top-tier education to Indian students worldwide. By focusing on the unique needs of globally mobile families, particularly those from India, the organization is addressing a crucial need in our increasingly interconnected world. From a single room to a global classroom, from two students to hundreds, this organization exemplifies how education can and should evolve to meet the challenges and opportunities of our time. It reflects our commitment to high-quality education and adaptability to the evolving needs of students worldwide.

MS. ANUSHKA DANI DHINGRA

In the fast-paced world of aviation, it's easy to get caught up in the momentum of jet-setting and long hours, but for one woman, this career was just the beginning of an inspiring journey toward health, empowerment, and personal transformation. Meet Anushka Dani Dhingra, a certified yoga, Pilates, and aerial yoga trainer, who transformed her passion into a mission dedicated to women's health and well-being, establishing her own studio, Sweat and Stretch.

Growing up with big dreams, I pursued a career in aviation, a field that offered excitement and adventure. Aviation was a world that taught me discipline, resilience, and precision. But while I enjoyed the challenges that came with it, I always had a deep-rooted desire to empower women. It became clear to me that while my job allowed me to soar physically, my heart sought a different kind of elevation—a spiritual, emotional, and physical upliftment that I could share with others, especially women.

As a woman in a demanding field, I understood the pressures many women face—balancing work, home, and self-care. However, the importance of health and well-being began to take center stage in my life after marriage and starting a family. With a loving husband and a beautiful son, I found joy and strength in my personal life, but I also became acutely aware of how women often sacrifice their well-being for the sake of others. This realization fuelled my next step.

I decided to take the leap from aviation to wellness, undergoing extensive training in yoga, Pilates, and aerial yoga. Fitness had always been a passion of mine, but now it had become a purpose—a way to connect with my body, mind, and spirit. I wanted to share this discovery with other women, to show them that they, too, could prioritize their health without guilt or hesitation.

As I completed my certifications, I felt an undeniable pull to create a space where women could feel supported, motivated, and safe in their fitness journeys. I envisioned a place where fitness wasn't just about losing weight or conforming to societal standards, but about gaining strength—both physically and mentally. Thus, Sweat and Stretch was born.

Sweat and Stretch: More Than Just a Studio

Opening Sweat and Stretch was a dream realized. Located in the heart of a bustling community, the studio wasn't just a place for fitness classes. It is a haven for women of all backgrounds to come together, connect, and empower one another through movement. At its core, Sweat and Stretch emphasizes holistic well-being, focusing on the mind-body connection through yoga, Pilates, and aerial yoga sessions. But beyond fitness, I wanted the studio to embody my commitment to women's empowerment. Coming from a joint family, I knew the importance of support systems, and I brought that into the environment at Sweat and Stretch. Whether women are struggling with work-life balance, family pressures, or simply their own insecurities, they find a welcoming community that embraces and uplifts them.

While my studio focused on women's health, my work extended beyond those walls. I became involved with Commit to Change, an organization dedicated to uplifting women and promoting their health and well-being. As part of this initiative, I started conducting health and yoga sessions, encouraging women from all walks of life to prioritize their well-being.

Running a successful studio while managing a family is no easy task, but the support of my husband and joint family has made it all possible. My son, the center of my world, continues to inspire me every day. I want to lead by example, showing him that women can achieve anything they set their minds to, while also valuing their health and well-being.

As I look to the future, I'm excited about continuing my education and deepening my spiritual journey. Life has a way of presenting opportunities, and I'm eager to see where my path leads next, always with a focus on learning, growth, and empowerment.

For anyone reading this story, my message is simple: Women have the strength to do anything. Whether it's flying planes or running a fitness studio, we have the power to shape our own destinies. My journey from aviation to wellness is a testament to the fact that it's never too late to pivot, pursue your passion, and make a difference—not just in your life but in the lives of others.

At Sweat and Stretch, we're not just stretching our bodies; we're stretching the limits of what we believe we can achieve. Every woman deserves to feel strong, supported, and empowered. And that's the heart of everything I do.

Entrepreneurial Journey at Sunrise Fumigation Services*

Since 2011, I have been at the helm of Sunrise Fumigation Services in Delhi, driving its growth and expansion with a vision to revolutionize the pest control industry. As an alumna of the prestigious Indian Institute of Management (IIM), my journey has been marked by strategic foresight, operational excellence, and an unwavering commitment to innovation.

Founding and Vision

When I founded Sunrise Fumigation Services, my goal was to address the significant gap in the market for reliable and effective pest control solutions. The initial phase involved meticulous market research, understanding customer pain points, and identifying key areas for innovation. The insights gained during my time at IIM proved invaluable, providing a solid foundation for creating a business model that prioritized customer satisfaction and operational efficiency.

Strategic Leadership

My expertise in strategies for leaders has been pivotal in steering the company towards sustained growth. At Sunrise Fumigation Services, strategic planning is not a one-time activity but a continuous process. I have implemented a robust framework for strategic management that involves setting clear objectives, devising actionable plans, and regularly reviewing progress to ensure alignment with our long-term goals.

A critical aspect of my leadership has been fostering a culture of innovation. This involves encouraging my team to think creatively, experiment with new ideas, and learn from failures. By leveraging the latest technologies and methodologies, we have been able to develop advanced fumigation techniques that are not only effective but also environmentally sustainable.

Operational Excellence

Operational excellence is the cornerstone of Sunrise Fumigation Services. From streamlining processes to optimizing resource allocation, I have focused on creating a lean and efficient operation. This has involved the adoption of cutting-edge technology, rigorous training programs for staff, and a relentless focus on quality control.

One of the key initiatives I spearheaded was the implementation of an integrated pest management (IPM) system. This holistic approach combines biological, cultural, mechanical, and chemical tools to minimize pest populations while reducing reliance on chemical pesticides. The IPM system has not only improved the efficacy of our services but also enhanced our reputation as a responsible and eco-friendly business.

Customer-Centric Approach

Understanding and addressing customer needs has been central to our success. At Sunrise Fumigation Services, we pride ourselves on delivering personalized solutions tailored to the unique requirements of each client. This customer-centric approach has helped us build strong relationships and earn the trust of our clients.

To ensure we remain responsive to customer needs, we have established multiple channels for feedback and communication. This includes regular surveys, a dedicated customer service team, and an online portal for real-time support. By actively listening to our customers and adapting our services accordingly, we have maintained high levels of customer satisfaction and loyalty.

Passion for Teaching and Mentorship

Beyond my entrepreneurial endeavors, I have always been an innate and passionate teacher. This passion is reflected in my efforts to motivate and guide young innovators and students of professional studies. I believe that nurturing the next generation of entrepreneurs is crucial for the continued growth and development of our economy.

I regularly conduct workshops and seminars at various educational institutions, sharing insights on entrepreneurship, leadership, and innovation. My sessions are designed to inspire students, providing them with practical knowledge and tools to turn their ideas into viable businesses. I also offer mentorship to budding entrepreneurs, helping them navigate the challenges of starting and scaling a business.

Guiding Young Innovators

My role as a mentor extends beyond the classroom. I work closely with young innovators, offering guidance on everything from market research and business planning to fundraising and scaling. My approach is hands-on and collaborative, ensuring that each mentee receives personalized support tailored to their specific needs and goals.

One of the most rewarding aspects of my work is seeing the success of those I have mentored. Many of my mentees have gone on to launch successful startups, creating jobs and contributing to the economy. Their achievements are a testament to the power of mentorship and the importance of investing in the next generation of entrepreneurs.

Conclusion

My journey as an entrepreneur at Sunrise Fumigation Services has been a fulfilling and enriching experience. It has allowed me to leverage my expertise in strategic leadership, operational excellence, and customer-centricity to build a successful business. At the same time, my passion for teaching and mentorship has enabled me to make a meaningful impact on the lives of young innovators and aspiring entrepreneurs.

Looking ahead, I am excited about the future possibilities for Sunrise Fumigation Services and my continued efforts to inspire and guide the next generation of leaders. My mission remains clear: to drive innovation, deliver exceptional service, and nurture the entrepreneurial spirit in others.

School H.S.S. Nipaniya Rewa (M.P.)

Since time immemorial, every society and nation has been constantly striving to make itself a Wisdom Society by educating and training its citizens. In this series, I, as a teacher, got the opportunity to give my students the opportunity to shape their lives. In the year 2005, the Madhya Pradesh government selected me as a primary teacher. I myself was a mother of a 6-month-old child. My school was 120 km from my home. It was in a very backward forest area. For 4 consecutive years, I used to leave home at 7 am and return home at 9 pm. After that, in the year 2009, the Madhya Pradesh government again conducted the eligibility test and I passed the secondary education class 2 and became a secondary teacher. I again found a school after crossing a steep hill 45 km away. There also I somehow spent 4 years, sometimes traffic jam on the hill, sometimes not getting a bus, life went on struggling. In the year 2013, I got transferred to the city school of my native village Rewa, and I continued my work on this principle. I liked having fun among the children, teaching in a playful way. Everything was very much, in the year 2018 I got the post of CAC (Cluster Academic Coordinator) under which all the schools within the cluster level, Jan Shiksha Kendra have to be inspected. You got the workload of 28 schools which were spread in an area of 20 km. Being in H.S.S. School, I was also a class teacher of Class 10th, after finishing my class, I used to go out for inspection, enduring the scorching sun, bitter cold and rainy weather, I used to meet my students and teachers there, which was very pleasant. Many times, even after finding mistakes of the teachers, she would explain to them lovingly and teach them to do the work properly. So that they can do the work easily the next time. CAC madam became everyone's darling. Be it a teacher or a student, the school would become organized just by the sound of her arrival. As soon as she reached the school, the problems of the teachers were heard. As if Aradhana madam had come, all the problems were solved. A strong bond of trust was formed. Aradhana madam became friendly. She kept getting a lot of respect. Definitely.

The fruit of work done with a good mind and heart is very sweet. A teacher of a primary school gave me the title of (Sister Shri). In my honor, a saree was given as a gift in my school. For which I am very grateful. I was honored by giving a letter administered by the Honorable Collector in the Teacher Honor Ceremony. I was honored with Pratibha Samman Ceremony, etc. In the year 2020, the bad phase of Covid-19 came. Schools were closed, but all CACS were put on duty. I worked as a Covid warrior by going door to door, identifying and getting vaccinated. I performed my duty honestly by going to the camp and helping people. Along with this, keeping the interest of the students in mind, as per the instructions of the government, going from village to village and distributing books to the students' homes, decorating a corner and getting them to study. Instead of giving cooked food to the children as per MDM, whatever dal rice was available at the government level was distributed to every house, so that no problem arises, etc. It has always been my endeavour to propose, plan and organize education in the right manner keeping in view its contribution in the development of society and the country. In the modern times, the entire world is undergoing a phase of rapid change in the changing scenario of knowledge and skills. The field of education is also not untouched by this wind of change. As a result of my circumstances, I have been changing my goals and values directly or indirectly from time to time to represent the changing needs, aspirations and arrangements of education. Being a woman, keeping my dignity in mind, I have promoted education in the schools of backward villages.

I have taken up the Veena to awaken the consciousness. And I have been successful to a large extent. 2500 in the year 2005 but still I did not give up. The school was very small and was in the middle of a jungle where it was scary to go alone. I had a 6-month-old child in my lap and I had to carry a big bag, umbrella, water and all the daily provisions. Today I am happy and elated to be a teacher. God has given me the task of building citizens of the country.

- "Building Foundations for Success: Insights from a Preschool Founder" Mrs. Tanvi Goel
- In the dynamic world of early childhood education, I thought to create a preschool that would provide a safe, loving, and intellectually stimulating environment for young children. The early days were a blend of excitement and uncertainty as we laid the foundation for what would become a beacon of early childhood education. The focus was clear: to foster a love of learning and to nurture each child's unique potential. As the founder of Chulbul Preschool, I've been privileged to observe the profound impact of play-based learning on young minds.
- In the world of early childhood education, the experiences and insights of preschool founders play a pivotal role in shaping the future of countless young minds. As a preschool founder, I have last 10 yearsof experience in the field of early childhood education is a milestone that fills me with immense pride and gratitude. As the founder of a preschool, I have had the privilege of witnessing firsthand the profound impact that a nurturing and stimulating learning environment can have on young minds. Over the past decade, I have navigated challenges, embraced innovations, and, most importantly, watched countless children embark on their educational journeys. This article delves into the core principles and practices that have guided our preschool to success, offering insights and inspiration for educators, parents, and aspiring preschool founders.
- At the heart of a successful preschool is a nurturing and supportive environment. Children thrive when they feel safe, valued, and loved. Our preschool emphasizes creating a warm, inclusive atmosphere where every child can explore, learn, and grow at their own pace. By fostering a sense of belonging, we lay the groundwork for confident and curious learners.
- An engaging and innovative curriculum is key to capturing young children's interest and igniting their passion for learning. We integrate a variety of teaching methods, including hands-on activities, storytelling, music, and art, to make learning enjoyable and meaningful. Our curriculum is constantly evolving, incorporating new ideas and technologies to keep pace with the changing educational landscape.
- A preschool's success is intrinsically linked to the dedication and expertise of its educators. We invest in ongoing professional development of our partners, ensuring our teachers are equipped with the latest knowledge and skills. Empowered educators are better able to inspire and guide their students, creating a positive and dynamic learning environment.
- Parents are a child's first and most influential teachers. By building strong partnerships with parents, we create a collaborative approach to education. Regular communication, parent workshops, and involvement in school activities help bridge the gap between home and school, providing a consistent support system for the child's development.
- "At Chulbul Preschool, We provide franchise opportunities to homepreneurs and women who want to serve the society."This is most profitable business idea for anyone who has passion for business and love for kids. - Ms. Tanvi Goel

Entrepreneurial Journey at Sunrise Fumigation Services*

Since 2011, I have been at the helm of Sunrise Fumigation Services in Delhi, driving its growth and expansion with a vision to revolutionize the pest control industry. As an alumna of the prestigious Indian Institute of Management (IIM), my journey has been marked by strategic foresight, operational excellence, and an unwavering commitment to innovation.

Founding and Vision

When I founded Sunrise Fumigation Services, my goal was to address the significant gap in the market for reliable and effective pest control solutions. The initial phase involved meticulous market research, understanding customer pain points, and identifying key areas for innovation. The insights gained during my time at IIM proved invaluable, providing a solid foundation for creating a business model that prioritized customer satisfaction and operational efficiency.

Strategic Leadership

My expertise in strategies for leaders has been pivotal in steering the company towards sustained growth. At Sunrise Fumigation Services, strategic planning is not a one-time activity but a continuous process. I have implemented a robust framework for strategic management that involves setting clear objectives, devising actionable plans, and regularly reviewing progress to ensure alignment with our long-term goals.

A critical aspect of my leadership has been fostering a culture of innovation. This involves encouraging my team to think creatively, experiment with new ideas, and learn from failures. One of the key initiatives I spearheaded was the implementation of an integrated pest management (IPM) system. This holistic approach combines biological, cultural, mechanical, and chemical tools to minimize pest populations while reducing reliance on chemical pesticides. The IPM system has not only improved the efficacy of our services but also enhanced our reputation as a responsible and eco-friendly business.

Beyond my entrepreneurial endeavors, I have always been an innate and passionate teacher. This passion is reflected in my efforts to motivate and guide young innovators and students of professional studies. I believe that nurturing the next generation of entrepreneurs is crucial for the continued growth and development of our economy.

I regularly conduct workshops and seminars at various educational institutions, sharing insights on entrepreneurship, leadership, and innovation. My sessions are designed to inspire students, providing them with practical knowledge and tools to turn their ideas into viable businesses. I also offer mentorship to budding entrepreneurs, helping them navigate the challenges of starting and scaling a business.

Guiding Young Innovators

My role as a mentor extends beyond the classroom. I work closely with young innovators, offering guidance on everything from market research and business planning to fundraising and scaling. My approach is hands-on and collaborative, ensuring that each mentee receives personalized support tailored to their specific needs and goals.

One of the most rewarding aspects of my work is seeing the success of those I have mentored. Many of my mentees have gone on to launch successful startups, creating jobs and contributing to the economy. Their achievements are a testament to the power of mentorship and the importance of investing in the next generation of entrepreneurs.

Conclusion

My work empowers clients to embrace their true selves and chart their own paths.

My passion for astrology and tarot blossomed alongside my career in psychology. Fascinated by the cosmos and its influence on human lives, I immersed myself in the study of celestial patterns, developing a deep understanding of how they illuminate our experiences. I guide clients not only in understanding their astrological charts but also in releasing emotional blockages and fostering a sense of balance and well-being.

My approach is empathetic and tailored to each individual. I believe astrology is not merely about predicting the future; it's about fostering self-awareness and personal growth. My readings are designed to empower clients, encouraging them to take charge of their lives and make informed decisions. This philosophy resonates deeply with those who seek my guidance, as I provide not just insights but also practical tools to help them manifest their desires.

Beyond individual consultations, I conduct workshops and webinars aimed at educating others about astrology, tarot, and Reiki healing. These events not only provide valuable knowledge but also foster a sense of community among participants. By sharing my expertise, I empower others to explore these ancient practices and discover their own intuitive abilities.

My contributions to the field have gained recognition, with features in various publications where I share insights on current astrological trends and their implications for personal and collective growth. My voice has become a significant part of the discourse around astrology in the modern world, bridging the gap between ancient wisdom and contemporary life.

Despite my growing recognition, I remain grounded. I attribute my success to a combination of hard work, authenticity, and a genuine desire to help others. "Astrology is a tool for understanding ourselves and the world around us," I say. "When we align with our true selves, we can navigate life's challenges with grace and confidence."

My journey has not been without challenges. Like many, I have faced moments of doubt and adversity. However, I view these experiences as opportunities for growth. "Every setback is a lesson," I explain. "The stars may guide us, but it's our choices that define our paths." This resilience and positive outlook inspire those who encounter my work, encouraging them to embrace their own journeys with hope and determination.

Looking ahead, I envision a world where astrology, tarot, and Reiki are embraced as tools for personal empowerment and collective healing. I aim to expand my reach through online courses and a book that encapsulates my teachings, making my insights accessible to an even broader audience. Let us embark on this journey together, discovering the magic that lies within and around us.

MS. NISHATH SERMADI

It's my privilege and pleasure to share some insights of my life with you.

I'm Mrs. Nishath Sermadi, born in the heritage city, Mysore. My education journey embarked on schooling from St. Annes Convent where I had the honour of serving as the school leader which honed my confidence and public speaking skills. Following this, my college era began with spending three years in Maharani's College, Mysore where I represented my college in various extracurricular activities and won awards, one such notable achievement was being distinguished as a finalist in the celebrated Miss Mysore competition. The last leg of my graduation in the field of Arts, was completed in Bharatha Samskruthi Vidyapeetha in Bangalore, the green city where I relocated to. To add another feather to my cap, I completed my Master's in arts, Sociology and B. Ed through distance education.

At the outset of my career, I owned Alpha Institute for 5 years where I taught computers just when the world was stepping into the digital era, later I served as a computer trainer in Kaveri school and Holy Angels School for a couple of years. My teaching career then paved me into New Horizon School which led me to my dream position in Aryan Presidency School as a Co-ordinator and Senior faculty member.

Apart from these mainstream roles, I conducted evening sessions for about 10 years, to train students on English communication skills for VETA spoken English classes, and I also managed VETA for 3 years. Furthermore, I was an IELTS career planner, worked for Preksha tutorials for 3 years and as a visiting faculty for Mahesh tutorials.

To give a glimpse of my family, my husband is a central government employee, serving as an Administrative Officer in the esteemed Indian Institute of Management, Bangalore (IIMB). I'm blessed with two children, my daughter works as a Software Engineer in Accenture, Australia and my son is pursuing his Masters in Cybersecurity in Melbourne Institute of Technology, Australia.

At Aryan Presidency School, I co-ordinate Silver Zone, Taramandal, Olympiads, Human Resource Department with General Knowledge Exams, Cultural Activities in addition to my noble profession of teaching from past 25 years. I find joy in writing inspirational and motivational epigrams (quotes) on social media such as Facebook.

Working for me is a delight and I always occupy myself with constructive bits of work and staying idle is something I do not endorse, as I believe time is precious.

That was a condensed preview of my personal and professional life. I thank gracefully with due respect to the women forum for recognizing women empowerment, progressive challenges, overcoming gender stereotypes, harnessing talent and reaching out for global recognition. Teachers should be assets for institutions not liabilities. So, as we move on, the journey never ends, we update ourselves for any unseen scenario.

MS. BIPAKSHI KASHYAP

Title: Empowering Women through Emotional Intelligence: Bipakshi's Journey from Guwahati to Transforming Lives Nationwide

In the bustling corporate corridors of Delhi, the term 'success' is often associated with stress, burnout, and imbalance. But for Bipakshi, a 36-year-old seasoned coach and author, success is rooted in a completely different ethos — emotional intelligence. Her story is one of personal growth, professional evolution, and a desire to help women find an easier path to wellbeing, balancing both personal and professional life.

The Beginning: A Journey from Guwahati to Delhi

Bipakshi hails from the small yet vibrant city of Guwahati in Assam. Her early life was shaped by the unique cultural and social dynamics of a close-knit community, where emotional resilience was part of daily life. However, it wasn't until she stepped into the demanding world of Delhi's corporate sector, working for over a decade, that she began to deeply understand the importance of emotional intelligence.

"In the corporate world, I saw countless women, including myself, struggle with balancing career success and personal happiness. The constant pressure led to stress, anxiety, and a loss of identity," Bipakshi recalls. "I realized that the key to thriving wasn't just hard work, but mastering our emotions and responses."

Emotional Intelligence: A Game Changer

Bipakshi soon realized that emotional intelligence (EQ) plays a vital role in not just achieving professional success, but in leading a fulfilling personal life as well. Emotional intelligence — the ability to understand, manage, and regulate emotions — became her area of focus. With time, Bipakshi delved into Transactional Analysis, NLP (Neuro-Linguistic Programming), and the Stoic path, powerful tools that helped her transform not only her own life but also the lives of countless women around her.

"As I applied these techniques, I saw how emotional intelligence can dramatically reduce stress, improve relationships, and enhance decision-making abilities," she explains.

The Transition: From Corporate Professional to Wellbeing Coach

After 10 years in the corporate grind, Bipakshi made a life-altering decision. She transitioned from the corporate world to become a wellbeing coach, dedicating herself to empowering women by helping them develop emotional intelligence, build resilience, and create a more joyful, stress-free life. Today, Bipakshi has coached over 100,000 women from all walks of life — from stay-at-home moms to top corporate executives — using her signature methods.

Her workshops and one-on-one coaching sessions combine Transactional Analysis and NLP with elements of the Stoic philosophy, enabling women to take control of their emotions, reduce anxiety, and achieve sustainable success, both personally and professionally.

"I wanted to give women the tools to not just cope with stress, but to truly thrive in all areas of life. Emotional intelligence is the foundation of that transformation," Bipakshi says.

Finding Joy in Adversity: Bipakshi's Literary Contribution

Beyond coaching, Bipakshi is also the author of the critically acclaimed book, "Finding Joy in Adversity." In this book, she draws from her own life experiences and coaching expertise to provide practical insights and strategies for cultivating joy, even in life's most challenging moments.

"My goal with the book was to show women that happiness and wellbeing aren't just results of external success. They come from within, from how we process and respond to the challenges we face," Bipakshi explains.

MS. RAGINI RAZDAN

Ragini Razdan: A Journey of Transformative Science Education

As a dedicated Science Educator, I, Ragini Razdan, have always believed that education is more than just the transfer of knowledge. It is a pathway to inspire, innovate, and cultivate critical thinking among students. My approach to teaching has been rooted in the belief that every student has the potential to excel when exposed to an engaging and thought-provoking learning environment. Over the years, I have consistently focused on innovative teaching-learning methods, experiential learning, and the development of scientific temperament among my students.

Innovative Teaching-Learning Methods

In today's fast-evolving world, science is a dynamic subject that requires educators to constantly adapt and innovate. My journey as a science educator has been defined by a conscious effort to bring creative approaches to the classroom. Recognizing that traditional methods may not always be enough to spark a child's curiosity, I have experimented with blended learning, interactive projects, and inquiry-based instruction.

I introduced the flipped classroom approach, where students are given the opportunity to explore concepts before they are discussed in class, allowing for deeper in-class discussions. This has empowered students to take charge of their learning process, helping them build confidence and independence. I also integrate technology in various forms, from digital simulations to interactive models, to create an immersive learning experience. By aligning my teaching strategies with the interests and learning styles of my students, I ensure that science education becomes engaging and relevant to real-life applications.

Experiential Learning: Bringing Science to Life

One of the hallmarks of my teaching philosophy is experiential learning. I firmly believe that students learn best by doing. Science, being an experimental subject, offers endless opportunities for hands-on activities that promote a deeper understanding of concepts. I design experiments and field trips that enable students to witness the practical applications of the theories they learn in textbooks.

For example, I've organized outdoor explorations, visits to science museums, and even brought the science lab into the everyday environment. Whether it's investigating the ecosystem in a nearby park or conducting chemistry experiments using household items, I strive to make learning a holistic experience. This not only demystifies complex scientific ideas but also allows students to relate scientific phenomena to their immediate surroundings.

Moreover, I've been deeply involved in facilitating science fairs and student-led research projects, where students take on the role of young scientists, presenting their work to their peers and the community. These events encourage critical thinking, problem-solving, and a sense of ownership over their learning journey. They also help students develop communication skills as they explain their findings in accessible ways.

Building Scientific Temperament

At the core of my work as an educator is the aim to foster a scientific temperament among students. Science education is not just about memorizing facts or learning to pass exams. It is about cultivating a mindset that questions, explores, and seeks evidence-based answers. I am committed to nurturing this spirit of inquiry, ensuring that students learn to think like scientists.

I encourage students to ask "why" and "how" instead of simply accepting information at face value. Through open discussions, problem-solving sessions, and debates on scientific issues, I aim to develop their reasoning skills. One of the key elements of building scientific temperament is to promote skepticism and curiosity, ensuring students are comfortable with uncertainty and the pursuit of truth.

I've also introduced debates on contemporary scientific issues—such as climate change, sustainable energy, and medical ethics—where students critically evaluate information from multiple sources, developing an informed perspective. This process not only equips them with knowledge but also teaches them to think critically about the impact of science on society.

Improvement in Education in Modern Times

In the modern era, education has undergone significant improvements, driven by advancements in technology, pedagogical methods, and global interconnectedness. One of the most notable changes is the integration of technology into the classroom, enhancing both the teaching and learning experience. Digital tools such as educational apps, e-learning platforms, and virtual classrooms have made education more accessible, allowing students from different geographical locations to gain knowledge and skills at their convenience. This has also led to the rise of personalized learning, where students can learn at their own pace, catering to individual needs. Another key improvement is the shift from rote learning to more holistic, skills-based education. Modern curricula focus on developing critical thinking, creativity, collaboration, and communication skills, preparing students for the dynamic nature of the 21st-century workforce. Education systems around the world are emphasizing problem-solving and real-world applications rather than memorization, fostering a deeper understanding of subjects. Inclusive education has also seen significant advancements. Schools and educational institutions are increasingly catering to diverse learning needs, including students with disabilities, by providing necessary accommodations such as assistive technologies and specialized learning support. This has made education more equitable, ensuring that every student, regardless of their background or abilities, can access quality education. Globalization has further played a vital role in improving education. Students are now exposed to diverse perspectives through international exchanges, online courses, and multicultural curriculums. This exposure helps cultivate global citizens who are more aware of global challenges and opportunities. In conclusion, modern education is marked by inclusivity, technological integration, and a shift towards practical skills, creating a more adaptive and responsive system that prepares students for the complexities of the modern world.

MS. ARCHANA MAHAJAN

My journey in India's education sector spans over two decades, driven by a passion for fostering learning, innovation, and community engagement.

I began as an assistant teacher teaching primary classes in 1998, where I discovered my love for teaching and continuously sought opportunities to enhance my skills through workshops and training sessions.

Transitioning seamlessly from teaching roles to leadership positions, I ascended through the ranks, assuming pivotal responsibilities as a class representative, wing incharge, and exam coordinator. I spearheaded ISO certification initiatives within school, revolutionizing operational frameworks and cultivating a nuanced understanding of systemic efficiencies. These experiences fortified my resolve to innovate and elevate educational standards, driven by a deep-seated commitment to educational excellence and community impact.

Outside academics, I've been actively involved in philanthropy through the Rotary Club of Ghaziabad Viraasat, organizing sessions on hygiene and safety in government schools. Currently, I am serving as a President of the club and working for empowerment of the women.

My personal life has been instrumental in shaping my approach to education. My husband, a supportive businessman, has always encouraged my innovations. Despite turning our home into a school at times, he stands by me, empowering my endeavors.

My son, a blessing in my life, has been a source of strength. From a young age, he understood my commitments and responsibilities. Today, working with Zomato, he remains supportive and always lends a listening ear whenever I need assistance.

Seeking to democratize education, I later planned to move to Tier 2 and Tier 3 regions and was fortunate enough to get the opportunity to head a school. Here, I found a canvas to weave their educational vision, inspired by the warmth and kindness of small-town communities—a stark contrast to the urban bustle of Delhi, Ghaziabad, and Noida. In my present role as Headmistress, I am continuously focusing on creating an inclusive and innovative learning environment, inspired by the warmth and kindness of small-town communities.

My vision centers on holistic development, where every child's potential is nurtured and celebrated. I'm committed to staying updated with emerging educational trends and fostering a culture of continuous improvement.

Looking forward, I envision education as a catalyst for empowering individuals from all backgrounds. My goal is to make a meaningful impact through educational leadership, ensuring that every child has access to quality education and opportunities.

MRS VIJAY AHLUWALIA

Vijaya- A Story of Victory

75 years of wisdom and 20 years in business, but I found solace through spirituality and meditation.

Every individual possesses a unique narrative in which they simultaneously embody the roles of both the protagonist and the antagonist. The power to shape and direct this narrative rests solely in our hands. Allow me to share my personal journey—the story of Vijaya.

Throughout my academic career, I diligently pursued a diverse range of degrees, including a Bachelor of Arts in Social Work and a Master's degree in Sociology.

I always found myself working towards the welfare of people, but my ambitious and independent self inclined more towards entrepreneurship.

Eventually, I found myself in the world of business minds. I invested myself and built a foundation in the business of exporting. However, working meticulously in this field, I became distant from myself. My life took a major turn when my health deteriorated to the point where I found myself under medical care. I believed that maybe... this was the end.

Later, when I lost hope in myself and my business, I found that hope in spirituality and meditation. It saved me from drowning; I swam the ocean of despair with my utmost enthusiasm towards that beam of light. My only hope, which could protect me.

Today, I stand here at the age of 75 with an experience of 25+ years in Tarot card reading, crystal healing, and meditation. I have conducted more than 100 workshops and guided over 1000+ people during their difficult phases of life because I know how it feels to be alone during your toughest battles. After all, you are the one-man army fighting for yourself to be found by yourself.

Recently, I decided to embark on a holistic journey and share my knowledge with others. I started "Holistic Healer Vijaya," a venture aimed at bringing positive change into people's lives and learning from their experiences. Through my holistic healing pages on social media platforms, primarily Facebook and Instagram, I aim to impact individuals, share my experiences, and provide guidance.

Today, I decided to bring the change and be the change. My remedies have helped people all around the world, from India to South Africa to Sri Lanka. My motive remains the same: 'Work for the blessings and work for the love.' Spirituality helped me and made me who I am right now.

"Age is merely a numerical value," as the saying goes. At this advanced stage of my life, instead of choosing to relax and retire, I have chosen to rekindle my flame of optimism and ambition. My goal is to serve as a beacon of hope for others, guiding them out of their own darkness. I firmly believe that my journey has only just begun. Even after accumulating 75 years of wisdom, when my metaphorical lamp begins to run low on fuel, I remind myself, "Vijaya, you are the victor; you have triumphed over yourself. You have not come this far only to surrender!" With this renewed determination, I embark on the next chapter of my journey.

MS. ANURADHA SHARMA

Hello, I am Annu Sharma, the proud founder of Unique Jewels and Saaz Creations,. My journey in the world of fashion and jewelry began with a simple fascination for traditional designs and the artistry behind them. Over the years, this passion has transformed into two vibrant brands that celebrate beauty, tradition, and individuality.

Unique Jewels was established to offer exquisite handcrafted jewelry that speaks to the heart and soul of its wearer. Launched in [2021], the brand focuses on creating one-of-a-kind pieces that blend contemporary aesthetics with traditional techniques. My vision was to craft jewelry that not only enhances personal style but also resonates with the stories and emotions of those who wear it.

At Unique Jewels, each piece is meticulously designed and crafted using ethically sourced gemstones and high-quality materials. I believe that jewelry should not just be an accessory but a cherished possession that carries memories and significance. This philosophy drives me to ensure that every design is infused with meaning and artistry, making it a unique treasure for each customer.

Recognizing the beauty of traditional Indian attire, I launched Saaz Creations, an ethnic clothing brand that celebrates the rich tapestry of Indian culture through fashion. The name "Saaz," which means "melody," reflects my belief that clothing can be a harmonious blend of tradition and modernity. My goal with Saaz Creations is to offer elegant, handcrafted garments that allow individuals to express their unique styles while honoring cultural heritage.

Saaz Creations features a diverse range of ethnic wear, from stunning sarees and lehengas to intricately designed kurtas and fusion outfits. Each collection is inspired by the vibrant colors, textures, and patterns found in Indian textiles, showcasing the craftsmanship of skilled artisans. By collaborating with local craftsmen, I not only promote traditional techniques but also empower communities and support sustainable practices within the fashion industry.

My design philosophy centers around the idea that clothing and jewelry should tell a story. I draw inspiration from various elements, including nature, architecture, and cultural motifs, to create pieces that resonate on a personal level. I believe that each design should reflect the individuality of the wearer, allowing them to express their personality and heritage.

In both Unique Jewels and Saaz Creations, I prioritize quality and craftsmanship. I work closely with artisans to ensure that every piece is made with the utmost care and attention to detail. This commitment to excellence allows me to create products that not only look beautiful but also stand the test of time.

I believe that fashion should be inclusive and sustainable. By offering timeless designs that transcend seasonal trends, I encourage customers to invest in pieces that they can cherish for years to come. This commitment to sustainability not only benefits the environment but also fosters a deeper connection between consumers and the products they choose.

A vital aspect of my journey has been the opportunity to give back to the community. Through Saaz Creations, I actively engage in initiatives that empower artisans and promote skill development. By providing training and mentorship, I hope to uplift individuals and create pathways for economic independence.

I also collaborate with various organizations to support women's empowerment through fashion. By creating opportunities for women artisans, I aim to foster a sense of pride and agency, allowing them to thrive in their crafts while preserving their cultural heritage.

As I reflect on the journey so far, I am filled with gratitude for the experiences and the support I've received from customers, artisans, and the community. Looking ahead, I aspire to expand the reach of Unique Jewels and Saaz Creations, introducing new collections that celebrate the diversity of Indian culture.

I am excited about the possibilities of exploring new materials, designs, and collaborations that align with my vision of ethical luxury. I envision both brands becoming synonymous with exquisite craftsmanship and cultural appreciation, encouraging individuals to embrace their heritage while expressing their unique styles.

In conclusion, my journey as Annu Sharma, the founder of Unique Jewels and Saaz Creations, is a testament to my passion for craftsmanship, culture, and community. MS. VAISHALI LAKHLANI

A teacher takes a hand, opens a mind and touches a heart. A good teacher has qualities like strong communication skills, empathy, and a passion for lifelong learning. These attributes not only foster a positive and engaging classroom environment but also enhance student's curiosity. Good Mathematics teachers inspire and motivate students to look for alternative ways of solving problems while creating an inclusive learning environment where each student is seen, valued, cared for, and respected.

As a Mathematics teacher, I believe that Mathematics is not just about numbers and calculations but its more about understanding the concepts and development of the necessary skills. In my journey of 24 years as a teacher, I try to make mathematics easy as well as interesting for my students. Now as a Head of Curriculum, I guide my teachers to plan lessons which include interesting activities and games along with building skills like problem solving and critical thinking.

I believe that every student possesses an inherent talent which needs to be identified and polished. As a teacher, it is inevitable to reach every learner in the classroom. So after the school hours, I spend time with students who need extra help as well as with the gifted ones. These interactions have brought wonderful results in the board exams as well as olympiads and other competitive exams. I have also mentored students to present their STEM projects in Math conferences at State and National level.

Learning leads to growth and it's very important to share our learning with fellow colleagues so that they are also inspired and motivated. I have presented my observations and insights as a Mathematics Educator as in various conferences and webinars.

Mathematics is a symbolic language which needs to be communicated accurately. A book is a mediator between a learner and an educator. I review books which make this communication from the expert to the learner accurate, precise and easy. Sometimes I share my classroom experiences and learnings by writing articles for Math journals and magazines.

Robert Frost says, "The woods are lovely, dark and deep, but I have promises to keep, and miles to go before I sleep, and miles to go before I sleep." As teachers we have a huge responsibility to nurture the young minds to become thinkers, problem solvers and most importantly, good citizens of not only our country but also the world.

MR. VARSHA MAHANANDA

Hi, I am Varsha Mahananda. I come from a beautiful city of Bhubaneswar. I am an Angel healer and a Manifestation Coach. The power of Manifestation and divine healing is so profound and overwhelming, that it can create MAGIC, if we believe in ourself and the divine power of universe.

Few years back I was not in good mental and physical state. Most of the time I was in bed because of my recurring asthmatic attack. My health was deteriorating day by day due to intake of high dose medicines. I was hospitalized most often. I was unable to even take care of my kid and my family, which made me helpless and depressed. After my mother's sudden death in 2013, my life was completely shattered. She was my friend, mentor and a pillar of strength and positive in my life. Thereafter my husband had to leave his promising job to attend me and my kid.

All this events led me to a state of depression, guilt and helplessness. My sense of clarity was vague and I was disconnected. The feeling of loneliness engulfed me.

I was desperate to get well. I tried many platforms for my treatment. But still my health was not getting well.

Seeing my condition, one of my aunt who is a Reiki healer in Assam gave me distant healing. Suddenly I find positive changes in my health. Then I started searching different modalities for spiritual healing. I was attracted towards Angel therapy. I attended a 21 days Angel healing bootcamp during covid.

This changed my life 360 degree.

I was absorbed towards positive tools like meditation, positive affirmations and manifestation. I applied these techniques to heal myself. I witnessed magical change in my life both physically and mentally.

Our mind are like garden. Our thoughts are like seeds. what we think about it grows.

I learned the power of universal energy. I became a certified Angel healer. I even learned many more healing modalities like Reiki, Crystal healing, Angel card reading, Colour therapy and many more. In today's stressful life, these are where Spirituality life coaching can be a powerful and magical tool. I am on a mission to equip people with their power which are within them. The power of thoughts which one can get rid of negative feelings, like pain, fear, frustration, anger, jealousy, sadness and insecurity through positive affirmations and manifestation. Each of us have immense power in our mind, body and spirit which can transform us and people around us.

Now I am an Angel healer, manifestation coach and hope creator. I have found my passion in making my life and others' life better with each passing day. Now I am giving hope and aspirations to others in achieving their goals and dreams. Every desire is achievable that requires you to have strong believe in yourself and positive mindset.

MS. BIPAKSHI KASHYAP

Title: Empowering Women through Emotional Intelligence: Bipakshi's Journey from Guwahati to Transforming Lives Nationwide

In the bustling corporate corridors of Delhi, the term 'success' is often associated with stress, burnout, and imbalance. But for Bipakshi, a 36-year-old seasoned coach and author, success is rooted in a completely different ethos — emotional intelligence. Her story is one of personal growth, professional evolution, and a desire to help women find an easier path to wellbeing, balancing both personal and professional life.

The Beginning: A Journey from Guwahati to Delhi

Bipakshi hails from the small yet vibrant city of Guwahati in Assam. Her early life was shaped by the unique cultural and social dynamics of a close-knit community, where emotional resilience was part of daily life. However, it wasn't until she stepped into the demanding world of Delhi's corporate sector, working for over a decade, that she began to deeply understand the importance of emotional intelligence.

"In the corporate world, I saw countless women, including myself, struggle with balancing career success and personal happiness. The constant pressure led to stress, anxiety, and a loss of identity," Bipakshi recalls. "I realized that the key to thriving wasn't just hard work, but mastering our emotions and responses."

Emotional Intelligence: A Game Changer

Bipakshi soon realized that emotional intelligence (EQ) plays a vital role in not just achieving professional success, but in leading a fulfilling personal life as well. Emotional intelligence — the ability to understand, manage, and regulate emotions — became her area of focus. With time, Bipakshi delved into Transactional Analysis, NLP (Neuro-Linguistic Programming), and the Stoic path, powerful tools that helped her transform not only her own life but also the lives of countless women around her.

"As I applied these techniques, I saw how emotional intelligence can dramatically reduce stress, improve relationships, and enhance decision-making abilities," she explains.

The Transition: From Corporate Professional to Wellbeing Coach

After 10 years in the corporate grind, Bipakshi made a life-altering decision. She transitioned from the corporate world to become a wellbeing coach, dedicating herself to empowering women by helping them develop emotional intelligence, build resilience, and create a more joyful, stress-free life. Today, Bipakshi has coached over 100,000 women from all walks of life — from stay-at-home moms to top corporate executives — using her signature methods.

Her workshops and one-on-one coaching sessions combine Transactional Analysis and NLP with elements of the Stoic philosophy, enabling women to take control of their emotions, reduce anxiety, and achieve sustainable success, both personally and professionally.

"I wanted to give women the tools to not just cope with stress, but to truly thrive in all areas of life. Emotional intelligence is the foundation of that transformation," Bipakshi says.

Finding Joy in Adversity: Bipakshi's Literary Contribution

Beyond coaching, Bipakshi is also the author of the critically acclaimed book, "Finding Joy in Adversity." In this book, she draws from her own life experiences and coaching expertise to provide practical insights and strategies for cultivating joy, even in life's most challenging moments.

"My goal with the book was to show women that happiness and wellbeing aren't just results of external success. They come from within, from how we process and respond to the challenges we face," Bipakshi explains.

MS. PRIYANKA ASHOK NARWADE

There are three types of ripe fruits: Firstly it becomes soft, secondly it becomes sweet and thirdly its color changes. So this is the journey of my life too! I am born in a normal family and I have a joint family. My father is the eldest son, like Zimeria in his house, darling in my house, I was brought up well, I never saw what sorrow is. One day it happened that my friend got first rank in 12th, then everyone started telling me that you got only 70%, then I felt very sad, then the passion of making my mark came alive. But the problem was what should I do now? Because my inclination was that if I had science, I would have become a doctor or an engineer. Days passed thinking that when I went to take admission, I did master in drama and B.ed and M.A Hindi and M.ed complete..I was very happy to get the job as a teacher. After a few days, the kid inside me started troubling me a lot, then I started a dance class, then my happiness doubled but I was equally worried about whether I would get admission or not, whether the class would run or not... but gradually the children started getting attached to it and the class also felt good. started walking... Everything was going well, then the tsunami of Covid came in my life and all of you, everything stopped... Those were the bad days of life, but one day it was my friend's birthday, so I made a cake by myself and took it her. That's when everyone liked it. Then my small business started and I took a lot of orders for cakes... then I understood that if even if the world has stopped we should not stop. We should move ahead with our own skills. I have not given up till date. Today, if this is not just one business from Pujabi Dress and other small shops, then I do many things... I teach in school, I have a dance and drama academy, I have a small business of sarees and dresses and I also issue LIC policies... The purpose of telling all this is that we women can do everything if we think. All this is not a story but it is true, I do not like to waver, rather it is a flame in us which helps us move forward, my dream has not come true yet, the child inside me will not let me rest in peace. Unless I take my big flight, I will neither sleep well nor the passion inside me will be quenched...this is my story.

MS. SOMA CHAKRABORTY

From Dreams to Reality: The Rise of a Visionary Soma Chakraborty

There are few who dare to dream and fewer who make that dream into a reality, in the dynamic world of healthcare entrepreneurship, few stories resonate as powerfully as that of Soma Chakraborty. As the Founder and Managing Director of her company, Soma has carved a niche for herself with her remarkable vision and unwavering determination. Holding an MBA in marketing, she embarked on her journey with a dream to revolutionize the industry. Her path, filled with both challenges and triumphs, serves as a beacon of inspiration for aspiring entrepreneurs, especially women who dare to break the mold. She added "No job looks perfect at the outset, no team is perfect when you step in, no new institute has all the answers but the important point to realize is that you have to take the risk, you have to say 'yes' to all your opportunities which are coming on your path and I feel when you're getting opportunities it's a "God Blessing" to do something extraordinary".

Soma's entrepreneurial journey is a testament to her relentless pursuit of excellence and her ability to navigate the complexities of the business world with grace and resilience. From securing initial funding to leading her company to unprecedented growth, her story is one of passion, perseverance, and profound impact. This article delves into the various facets of Soma Chakraborty's journey, exploring the challenges she faced, her significant achievements, the broader impact of her work, her personal insights, and her enduring vision for the future.

Introduction:

Soma Chakraborty is a Founder cum Managing Director with qualifications like MBA in marketing. She was grown with the dream in her mind to become an entrepreneur. From her teenage years, she wanted to become an entrepreneur but she wasn't born with generational wealth and had to fight for education, and therefore she believes that dedication, dream, and determination are the only paths for making you a successful entrepreneur. Later on, she started her career as a Sales Executive in the Hospitality Industries, unfortunately, people used to ignore sales and marketing profiles. As she is a seeker, she believes in opportunities so she always says 'yes' to them.

The turning point in her career was when she and her daughter got into a car accident, just after a few years of working in the hospitality industry. In that accident, her 3-year-old daughter got severe injuries for which she had to stay in hospital for 19 days with her daughter. As she was discharged from the hospital, Soma Chakraborty needed to stay at my home taking care of her daily needs. During this period she lost her job, broke her savings, and also became mentally weak. After a period of one year when she was looking for a new job, she suddenly got a call from a different sector. As she said yes to opportunities she accepted the profile of HOD marketing in a renowned hospital. From this new opportunity Soma didn't need to look back, she kept on achieving new goals and success followed her.

After a successful career in Corporate Hospitals for 10 years, she felt that she would create her world as she dreamt earlier. She thought of establishing her Hospital, where middle-class families could get treated at an affordable cost. It was pathetic and painful when mass death took place due to a lack of hospital beds and financial costs during the Covid pandemic.

Facilitated resolution of Grievances of women as Chairperson of Women Grievance Redressal Committee at NDMC Medical College and Hindu Rao Hospital for over seven years.

I have been a strong believer of enhancement and maintenance of skills in the practice of surgery. I equate it to the skill of framing words with alphabets, phrases with words and essays with phrases and sentences and so on.

In surgery if a surgeon masters skills of knotting, suturing, stitching and closing various organs, managing vessels, stapling, microsuturing, using new techniques and technologies, almost any major or minor surgery can be done with full confidence. They contribute to art and science of surgery and translate into good outcomes.

I have contributed to skill upgradation of generations of surgery residents and even faculty and self. Have created innovative models for self-sustenance of skill programs at Hindu Rao Hospital. Have collaborated with other academic groups to propagate it like Jn J academy, Bard academy, Delhi State Chapter, Association of Surgeons of India. The most enjoyable learning for all at Hindu Rao was in the JnJ skill bus stationed at Hindu Rao for a few days each year for over three years now with the comfort, ambience and quality skill devices and expertise and I take great pride in bringing it to Hindu Rao with full support of administration.

Eyes can only see what the mind knows and preparedness with skill activities leaves imprints of the process in the minds of surgeons for rapid retrieval during real surgeries.

MS. SMITA MEHTA

Sweet and sweat, friend-fried, week –weak... similar sounding words but with different meaning - to a 6 year old this could be daunting. Spellings, are confusing and to add to this, the pronunciation glitches. No wonder then, that children shy away from learning the English language and as a result their ability to communicate, suffers.

This pained ___ year old Smita Mehta Mandawat who thanks to her publishing background had been to foreign shores and seen parenting styles that consisted of library visits and hands-on learning. Realising that refined communication skills began with early reading, habits such as reading out bedtime stories to children and noticing the glaring dearth of good children's books in the Indian market, the dynamic Smita at once began to source popular titles for her children. Word spread and soon more parents began to contact her for the exchange of these precious books – international bestsellers which were age-appropriate, but more importantly catered to their child's interest.

BookEinstein, born in 2016 brought curated libraries to homes and well-known schools pan India, with the vision to create a nation of readers. Supplementing the school's curriculum with highly interactive and innovative techniques, made learning a fun, seamless experience instead of a stressful one for children and their parents. Another advantage, it not only bridged gaps in the existing education system, where few children would have to struggle to keep up with the rest of the class; but also helped to raise the standard of education in the country. However, getting children to read solved only part of the problem. Penning thoughts, voicing one's opinion with confidence and correct diction still remained to be tackled. Not to be cowed down, the mother of two, now embarked on a mission to enable children not just read, but also write and speak better through her painstakingly devised modules and Summer Camps. Covid did not deter her either. In fact, she converted her sessions to the online format and forged many happy bonds with her students and their parents. Her equally passionate teachers ensured that the goodwill they generated, continued long after the mandatory online classes were dissolved.

For Smita this celebration of childhood sans gizmos and burying one's nose in the mobile, is the ultimate reward for a job well done!

Now in its eighth year, BookEinstein's go-getter Founder & Directress, Smita, has spearheaded several literary events such as About the Author, Literary Week etc in schools to give children that edge – the poise and sophistication through Public Speaking, a wild imagination which is channelized with Creative Writing, invoking a spirit of enquiry with Critical Reading – all of which undoubtedly go a long way to fortify students who aim for and score high academic grades.

Not just students, but teachers too have fun becoming students again through BookEinstein's another extremely valuable product offering, the Teacher Training Program. With several formats and highly qualified trainers from around the world, this elite group propagates the English language 'as a way of life'. Teachers are empowered with short sessions on how to further build a child's imagination, nurture curiosity which would otherwise go unnoticed, inspire children to go that extra mile and not be limited to bookish knowledge. With coaching mandates like these, teachers themselves witness a sea-change in their teaching skills. It is this type of satisfaction which spurs Smita to conceptualize newer models which will make every child's transition into the next stage smoother and more stable.

In the pipeline, are projects which augment the journey of older students to prepare themselves as they step into the outside world. Similar to a finishing school, these future programmes will give every child that edge required to dazzle at a campus or job interview and brandish confidence and poise required to stand out from the crowd.

How does Smita acquire this boundless energy topped with a cheery, infectious smile? The secret lies in Smita and her little family of four, trekking across snow-capped peaks and learning how to stay on track through discipline as amply seen in Nature – the changing of seasons, the tides, the unwavering path of the planets, the rise and fall of the waves...

MS. ANINDITA DEY

Growth in skill comes not from what you know, but from your willingness to learn what you don't...

Acquisition of skill is the need of the hour!

Indeed, that sounds alarming. Skill development is of utmost significance to combat the multiple hindrances coming our way.

As an educator, I too, believe that the true value of education lies in the lessons learned beyond the classroom and this journey of discovery, resilience and growth can be acquired by empowering young minds. And it's only possible through enhancement of skills among learners.

Over the past ten years in the field of education, a realization has struck my mind that one is admired or praised for one's skills more than grades or ranks. As an educator, I've always tried to ensure that I motivate my students before commencing a lesson everyday and simultaneously lending ears to them. That has inevitably helped me as a professional to evolve and transform myself for good.

An individual, preferably a learner must be seasoned and proficient, and to become the same, he/she needs to undergo a rigorous honing of skills.

In the context of developing countries such as India, skill development is the ultimate requisite which will enhance employability. Introduction to skill training at a young age, right away from the primary school, will give impetus to the progress of a learner.

The NEP 2020, apparently focuses on skill development among learners. However, the implementation of the new policy will be fruitful and be devoid of hiccups if challenges such as mindset of the stakeholders of school, inadequate infrastructure are met efficiently.

Development of communication skills, logical reasoning skills, teamwork efficiency, creativity, self-motivation, stress management, entrepreneurship, decision making and problem solving ability, empathy and more of such mould the personality of a learner.

Hence, in the present context of globalization, this paradigm shift to the nourishment of vocational skills as well as soft skills will truly bring about a renaissance. Fundamentally, it is to be ensured we have a skilled youth force ten years from now.

In today's rapidly evolving world, the emphasis on skill development has never been more crucial. As educators, we have the unique opportunity to shape the future by fostering essential skills in our students, helping them not only to succeed academically but also to thrive in an increasingly complex society. The experiential learning approach through internships, project-based learning etc. enables students to build and refine skills in meaningful ways.

Being a part of the Army school, I have been exploring myself not only as an educator but also as a lifelong learner and that one thing which I have realized is it's important to model the skills we want our students to develop, demonstrating how to approach problems and persevere through challenges.

In a nutshell, the integration of skill development and experience into education is not just trend but a necessity. As educators, we have the power to influence and inspire, helping our students to build a strong foundation for their future. By embracing this approach, we can unlock their potential and guide them towards a successful and fulfilling journey.

MS. REKHA KUMARI

Sahodaya, an organization established on December 5, 2016, in Patna, was co-created by Rekha Kumari who had previously lived and worked in Delhi. In 2015, she left her urban lives behind to pursue sustainable living in rural Bihar. The following year, Sahodaya Trust received seven acres of Bhoodan land in Gaya, Bihar, donated by the Bihar Bhoodan Yagn Committee.

This land was allocated with the understanding that Sahodaya would focus on the education of Bhoodan farmers' children and the development of the village community. Since its inception, Sahodaya has primarily worked with the Manjhi or 'Mushhar' community in Kohabari village, Barachatti block, Gaya district. Rekha with her children have been living and working in the village to create a holistic learning environment, striving to live in harmony with nature. Their approach includes community living, where people, plants, and animals co-exist sustainably. The organization's activities are designed to foster close relationships with nature and encourage learning from them. Sahodaya's philosophy is centered on addressing systemic gaps in traditional education. Rekha believe that contemporary education often fails to bridge critical gaps, such as those between living and learning and self and community. Sahodaya aims to offer an alternative educational model that promotes sustainable living and respect for nature. The community's infrastructure and practices, such as mud-built houses and the use of local materials, reflect their commitment to environmental stewardship.

The organization emphasizes practical learning through various activities. Children create toys from natural materials, celebrate festivals with handmade items, and engage in agricultural tasks. They participate in farming, from planting and maintaining crops to using indigenous seeds. Sahodaya's organic farming practices include preserving and planting local seeds annually. Sahodaya also promotes indigenous knowledge and traditions. The community speaks Magahi, sings in the local language, and writes in it as well.

Local food, prepared from indigenous grains and vegetables, is a staple, and the farm produces traditional foods like ragi laddoos. Educational activities at Sahodaya are complemented by regular travel to explore similar initiatives elsewhere. The community has visited various states in India, including Odisha, Delhi, and Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Maharashtra, Andhra Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Utter Pradesh to gain insights and expand their perspectives. This travel helps bridge gaps between different cultures and practices, enhancing the educational experience. Daily life at Sahodaya involves group learning and discussion. Children study at their own pace and in groups, consulting facilitators as needed. There is no fixed teacher; instead, children learn collaboratively. They document their experiences in diaries and write creatively about their observations. Sahodaya's engagement with the local community of Kohabari is a core aspect of their work.

The presence of Sahodaya has strengthened the village's population and morale. Despite challenges, including conflicts with neighboring villagers and local authorities, Sahodaya and the villagers continue to work together to resolve issues and maintain their presence.

Rekha Kumari is a founding trustee and President of Sahodaya Trust and plays a pivotal role in managing all the activities of the organization. She loves exploring creative ways of responding to the challenges at Sahodaya, with ease and farsightedness.

This Gita poem is titled Saarthi Ka Sandesh, published by Anuradha Prakashan, Delhi.

It took him nearly 12 years to write the Gita. Alongside, a collection of 25 poems titled Srijan Mala was also published, for which he received many awards from the publisher. MR. UTKARSH GUPTA

Words often fall short when trying to encapsulate the will to succeed, but if there's one thing I've learned, it's that true success isn't about knowing the perfect path—it's about refusing to give up, no matter how uncertain the road ahead might seem. My story is one that began in a small, often overlooked part of India, where the odds were never in my favor. Yet, these very challenges became the forge where my determination was shaped.

At 18, I founded the Bliss Foundation, a non-governmental organization with a simple but profound goal: to help those in need. That was the beginning of my entrepreneurial journey—a journey driven by a vision to serve society and to mentor those who, like me, aspired to make a difference. As I look back, I can say with certainty that this was just the first chapter of a story still being written.

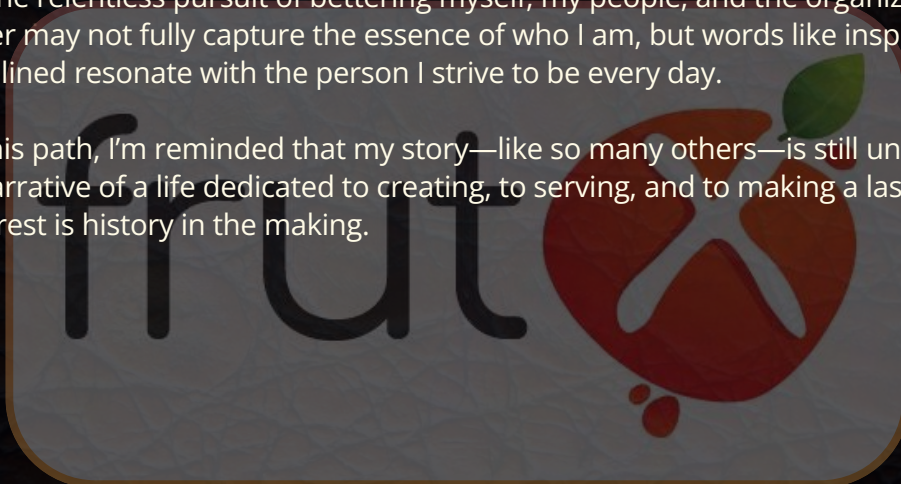

The next chapter came with the creation of DaurCom—a venture born out of a desire to connect ideas with people in a new and innovative way. In an era where social media is more than just a trend, it's the fabric of our daily lives, I saw an opportunity to push boundaries and create something that would make a real impact. DaurCom was not just about business; it was about fostering connections and nurturing a community of like-minded individuals who believed in the power of ideas.

My journey hasn't been without its challenges. There were times when I faced setbacks that seemed insurmountable, moments when the lows felt all-consuming. But I've always believed that it's precisely in those moments that we find our true strength. The lowest of lows often precede the highest of highs, and it's this never-back-down attitude that has helped me carve out a place in a highly competitive field.

Reflecting on my childhood, I was always a bright student with a deep passion for theater, sports, humanities, and academics. I was often referred to as the 'wonder' child—a label that, while flattering, reminded me of the expectations placed upon me. But I knew from the start that talent alone isn't enough. Hard work is essential, and I recognized early on that success is a marathon, not a sprint.

Today, I can say that the achievements I've made, the milestones I've reached, are only part of the story. What truly defines my journey is the relentless pursuit of bettering myself, my people, and the organizations I'm a part of. The work I've done on paper may not fully capture the essence of who I am, but words like inspiring, hard-working, determined, and disciplined resonate with the person I strive to be every day.

As I continue to walk this path, I'm reminded that my story—like so many others—is still unfolding. Each step is another verse in the narrative of a life dedicated to creating, to serving, and to making a lasting mark on the world. And as I often say, the rest is history in the making.

MR. SHASHANK BHADORA

From the very beginning, I've always believed that ambition is the heartbeat of success. As I walk this treadmill of ambitions, I've learned that it's not just about reaching a destination but embracing the journey that molds us into who we are. My entrepreneurial aspirations have always been my guiding force, and these aspirations led me to Frut X—a place where I've had the opportunity to blend my passion with purpose, reshaping norms with innovations and modern techniques.

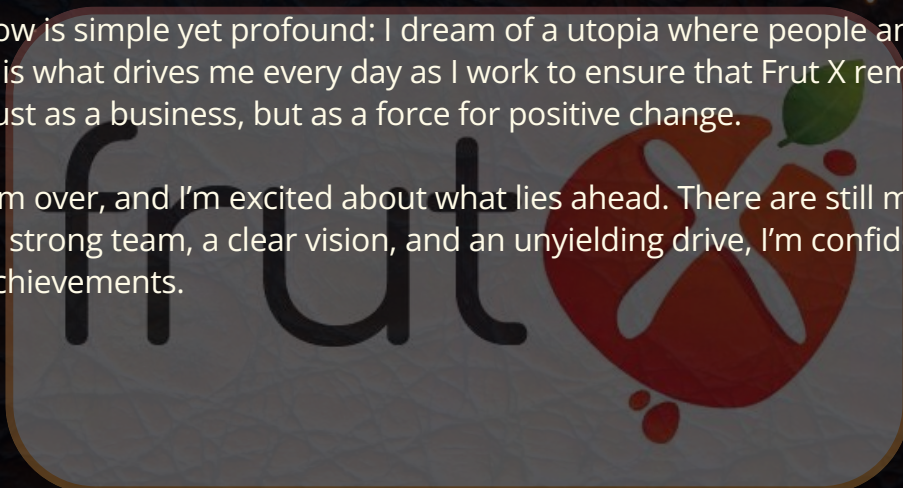

My journey began at BITS Pilani, an institution that not only equipped me with knowledge but also instilled in me a relentless drive to achieve. The lessons I learned there have been the foundation of my efforts in building Frut X into what it is today. It's been a challenging yet rewarding experience, one that has allowed me to apply my multifaceted talents across various economic platforms and institutions.

As a Marketing Analyst, I've always approached my work with a millennial mindset—one that's keen on initiatives and never afraid to challenge the status quo. My goal has always been to elevate Frut X, taking it to heights that reflect not just our potential but our unwavering commitment to bringing the healthiest whole of fruits and vegetables to the community. This journey hasn't just been about the company's growth; it's also been about ensuring that the farmers who trust us with their products see the rewards of their hard work.

Leadership, for me, isn't just about guiding a team—it's about nurturing a vision. I've always strived to be an effective, inspiring leader, one whose approach to business is as much about breaking conventions as it is about achieving results. The conventional image of a businessman—sharp suits and polished appearances—has never been my ideal. Instead, I'm focused on setting new standards, creating a prototype of business ideals that future entrepreneurs can embody and take inspiration from.

My vision for tomorrow is simple yet profound: I dream of a utopia where people and places thrive in harmony. This vision is what drives me every day as I work to ensure that Frut X remains at the forefront of our industry, not just as a business, but as a force for positive change.

The journey is far from over, and I'm excited about what lies ahead. There are still many challenges to overcome, but with a strong team, a clear vision, and an unyielding drive, I'm confident that the future holds even greater achievements.

MR. SHUBHAM GOYAL

I'm Shubham Goyal, and I am the proud owner and founder of Shymoon Home Appliances, a leading name in the home appliance industry. The journey began in 2020, when I envisioned creating high-quality, affordable air coolers and appliances for Indian households. From a small start-up under Gopal Enterprises, we have rapidly expanded, ensuring that each product we manufacture resonates with our mission of delivering excellence.

How I Started My Business:

Starting a business is never easy, especially in a competitive market. However, I firmly believed in the 'Vocal for Local' initiative, which inspired me to launch Shymoon Home Appliances. With limited resources but immense passion, we began by designing and manufacturing air coolers, striving to stand out with innovative technology and superior quality. We worked tirelessly, learning from every challenge, and steadily built a brand that people trust today.

My Journey:

The journey has been filled with ups and downs, but each step taught us valuable lessons. From setting up the manufacturing unit to establishing a distribution network, every milestone required dedication and hard work. I focused on understanding customer needs, ensuring that our products met the highest standards while remaining affordable. As our team grew, so did our vision, and today, Shymoon Appliances has become synonymous with reliability and quality.

How I Feel Today:

It fills me with immense pride and gratitude to see how far we have come. The trust and support from our customers have been the driving force behind our success. Every positive feedback motivates us to strive for even greater heights. It's a wonderful feeling to know that our products are making a difference in households across the country.

I feel honored and humbled. This recognition is not just a testament to my journey but also to the hard work of my dedicated team, who believed in my vision. It's a reminder that with passion, persistence, and a clear goal, dreams do come true.

"Shymoon Appliances is just getting started, and I look forward to continuing this journey of innovation and excellence. We aim to reach even greater milestones and make Shymoon a trusted name in every household across the nation."

Revolutionizing Agriculture with Cropspoint's Phygital Platform

Cropspoint Advance Solution Pvt. Ltd. is a proud example of innovation in agriculture, being recognized as the best agri-startup of the year. Founded in 2022, this Raipur-based company is making waves by offering farmers direct access to affordable, high-quality agricultural supplies, changing the face of the industry.

On September 28, 2024, Vikash Kumar, the founder of Cropspoint Advance Solution Pvt. Ltd., was awarded the prestigious title of Best Agri Startup of the Year at the event "LEADERS OF BHARAT" organized by Global Empire Events & BizNation TV. The event took place at the Radisson Blu Hotel, Dwarka, New Delhi, where entrepreneurs and leaders from across the nation gathered to celebrate excellence in various fields. Vikash Kumar proudly received the Certificate of Achievement, recognizing his company's incredible work in revolutionizing the agricultural supply chain. The certificate was signed by Global Empire Events and presented to Vikash Kumar during the award ceremony. It's a significant milestone for his company, Cropspoint Advance Solution Pvt. Ltd., which has been providing innovative solutions for the agricultural sector since its inception.

Mr. Vishal Kumar, Co-founder of Cropspoint Advance Solution Pvt. Ltd., said: "One of the biggest challenges farmers face is the lack of direct channels to purchase their agricultural supplies. Cropspoint bridges this gap by eliminating middlemen and providing products directly from manufacturers. This leads to cost efficiency and reliable access to essential farming tools."

Indian farmers have struggled with high prices and inconsistent quality of products due to a fragmented supply chain. Cropspoint's mission is to provide the best supplies at the lowest prices. By connecting farmers directly to manufacturers, the company ensures that farmers receive high-quality products without the additional costs that intermediaries usually add.

Apart from offering a wide range of products, Cropspoint goes further to support farmers with financial aid and technological support. The company aims to be a one-stop shop where farmers can find everything they need, from seeds to soil testing, without having to rely on multiple vendors.

In today's world, technology is key. Cropspoint has developed a user-friendly app and website, ensuring that farmers can easily place orders, check prices, and receive support. The platform also works in offline mode, making it accessible to those in remote areas where internet connectivity may be a challenge.

Cropspoint's success isn't just limited to its products. The company has collaborated with local dealers and franchisees, creating a strong network that makes its services available in more regions across India. This approach ensures that even the most remote farmers can benefit from Cropspoint's offerings.

India's agriculture sector is expected to grow at a CAGR of 10% from 2024 to 2032. With Cropspoint leading the charge, the company is well-positioned to capture a significant share of this growing market. They compete with big names like DeHaat and BigHaat by offering better pricing, Kisan credit facilities, and a wider variety of products.

Cropspoint generates revenue through direct sales, franchise fees, and service fees for additional offerings like soil testing and tech support. This diversified revenue model ensures steady growth while keeping farmer welfare at its core.

Cropspoint was recently awarded a prestigious government grant of 20lac by Central Ministry of Agriculture and Farmer Welfare under IGKV R-ABI program in recognition of its innovative contributions and commitment to advancing industry standards.

Cropspoint are committed to promoting sustainable farming by ensuring that every farmer, regardless of their location, can equip themselves with the best tools and resources at the lowest prices. This initiative not only enhances productivity but also empowers local communities, fostering resilience and self-sufficiency.

Together, they bridge the gap between quality and accessibility, championing innovation that uplifts farmers and strengthens our agricultural sector. Let's cultivate a future where every farmer can thrive—because they believe that "As farmers succeed, we all prosper".
